Dikes Still Holding at Omaha

Missouri Up 11 Feet Over Flood Stage

Levees Under Terrific Strain as Crest Hits; Next 48 Hrs. To Tell

OMAHA, Nebr. (AP) The mad Missouri threw its worst at Omaha and Council Bluffs today with an army of workers still winning the battle to hold the great river in its strait-jacket of dikes.

The river crest — stretch of maximum of water flow—was so long and so subject to fluctuations that it couldn't be pinpointed but river forecasters said the rampaging river is at cresting stage and will continue to crest all day.

At 9:30 a.m (EST) the level was 30.24, compared with the flood stage of 19. Some minor rising and falling will occur before the level begins to drop some 24 hours hence, the Weather Bureau said.

The predicted high had been 31.5 feet, but at this near-phenomenal level even the action of the wind can raise or lower the gauge readings by a foot or more.

The critical hours began before dawn when the slow-moving flood crest began surging into the seven-mile long tunnel of sodden dikes protecting the lowlands of the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs, Iowa.

24,000 Work on Dikes

The next 48 hours may determine whether the tremendous water pressure will burst through levees and cause more agony and damage along this river which has become a monster of destruction.

All night long soldiers and civilian workers -more than 24,000 of them- toiled under floodlights on the dikes here and on levees downstream where the rising waters are expected to smash through almost every farm dike all the way to Kansas City.

Doctors, lawyers, business executives, students, newspapermen and other volunteers took their turn heaving sandbags on the dikes to strengthen them against the most awesome floods the Missouri Valley has ever known.

The river crept to 30.15 feet early today. Flood level is 19 feet and the highest flood ever recorded was 24.6 feet back in 1881.

Narrow Channel

The great battle was to get the crest of the river safely past the narrow Omaha channel through which the water is flowing at the fantastic rate of 286 billion gallons per day.

North of Omaha, the Missouri sprawls across the farmland for as much as 15 miles. Little hamlets are inundated and farm buildings stand with only their roofs showing in the vast and lonely wilderness from which all living things have fled.

For 50 miles upstream, the river averages 10 miles in width—or 52,800 feet. But in the narrowest part of the Omaha-Council Bluffs channel the tunnel is only 1,200 feet wide. And the tide must be passed through this slender bottleneck before the danger is past.

There was no wall of water or battering waves. The river crest was a monstrous, creeping thing that moved slowly and with tremendous power. It strained against the dikes here with a pressure of more than 1,250 pounds per square foot.

Through the night workers rushed sandbags to weak points. The water crept to the top of the levees at some points and then

Action Due On Steel Wage Boost

Sawyer Confers With Steel Heads, Murray

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, federal boss of the steel mills, conferred for 80 minutes with top officials of the seized industry today, and then announced he would meet almost immediately with CIO president Philip Murray.

Sawyer told reporters "I'm not saying anything at the moment," but it was generally believed that the possibility of boosting the wages of 650,000 CIO steel workers was up for primary discussion.

One company official told a reporter after the session with Sawyer that to him the situation looked as black as ever.

The steel executives were headed by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corp. Other companies represented were Republic, Bethlehem, Jones and Laughlin, Wheeling, Youngstown, Inland and American Rolling Mill.

Following the conference, Sawyer planned another meeting with Murray.

A cloak of secrecy was wrapped tightly around all aspects of the situation.

Sawyer, nominal boss of the steel industry for the government, has been in constant touch with President Truman, it was learned. There was every indication he would confer with the President again before announcing any change in wages for Murray's steel workers.

The President said Thursday he personally would make the final decision on how much of a wage boost the steelworkers should get.

He made that statement after Murray had said "we expect the government will impose on this industry the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board."

Board's Offer

The Wage Board proposed a three-stage 17½-cent wage boost, 8½ cents in fringe benefits and the union shop—a form of compulsory unionism which would compel all workers to join a union within a specified time.

The highest offer industry made was 12½ cents in straigt wages effective last month and about five cents in fringe benefits—paid holidays and the like. Most of the industry holds the union shop unacceptable.

The question of prices has been a key point throughout the six-months dispute.

Price stabilizer Ellis Arnall has repeatedly said the industry is entitled to a maximum $8 a ton price boost. The industry contends it needs four times that much to offset the cost of the wage board's proposals.

PRISON REVOLT LEADER. August Pernard Doak (above) former "Purple Gang" member, has been identified as leader of rebellious convicts inside New Jersey state prison at Trenton, N. J. He and William Dickens, 38-year-old robber, threatened to kill any prisoners who wanted to give up.

Felons Seize 9 Guards At Prison Farm

Rebel in Sympathy With 4-Day Mutiny At Trenton State Prison

RAHWAY, N. J. (AP) - Rioting convicts staged a minor rebellion at Rahway State Prison farm today, in sympathy with a four-day mutiny at Trenton State Prison 40 miles away.

A group of 232 unruly prisoners at the farm grabbed control of a dormitory wing Thursday night and held nine prison guards as hostages in the fifth prison outbreak in New Jersey in three weeks.

At Trenton -where the stubborn rebels are demanding the firing of the warden and a revamping of the parole system- 69 convicts barricaded in the prison printing shop let one of the four prison employe-hostages go after he had a mild heart attack.

The Rahway convicts hung huge bedsheet signs out the shattered windows this morning, with crude black lettering.

"We want a new parole system," one sign said. "Tell the truth, we have radios in here." "The parole board isn't fair. We want a change."

A prison source said the embattled convicts listened to news broadcasts of the riots on tiny crystal set radios they fashioned out of magnetized steel and tin tobacco cans.

As a crisp spring dawn paled the searchlights framed on the massive stone walls of the dormitory wing, the prisoners inside set up a wild chorus of catcalls, jeers and whistles.

To Wait It Out

Prison officials said they had reason to believe the nine hostage guards were unharmed. They said they would wait out this mutiny just as they have in Trenton for four days.

A dozen guards, armed with sidearms, rifles and riot guns, grimly paced a parapet wide in a meadow next to the prison farm a herd of cows mooed their way to pasture in bucolic contrast.

There are a total of 1,000 convicts in the prison farm, which takes care of the overflow from the Trenton farm. There are 1,300 in Trenton prison. The vast majority of prisoners at both institutions are taking no part in the riots.

Farm superintendent William Lagay said the riot started without warning about 9 Thursday night. He said he was in the prison yard where the inmates were exercising Thursday afternoon and saw no signs of tension or restlessness.

Lagay and deputy institutions commissioner F. Lovell Bixby panned the sympathy tag on the Rahway disturbance.

"They're raising hell and that's about all," said Bixby.

The Trenton prisoners — famished after four days with almost no food—arranged a mediation session with officials for today.

At Rahway, the two-story dormitory wing housed 350 inmates, with nine guards stationed on each of the floors. When the rebellion started, guards managed to take out 118 men before the others barricaded the entrances, trapping the nine hostage guards on the second floor.

Believed Safe

"To the best of my knowledge the guards are safe, Bixby said. "The situation is under control. We have the wing completely surrounded and we'll sit it out as we are doing in Trenton," he added.

The rioting prisoners set fire to furniture in the dormitory and attempted to break through the barred windows. They quieted down toward morning.

State police and extra guards were rushed to the huge prison farm, which has two cell blocks and the dormitory—all ringed by a 30-foot high brick wall.

Floodlights played over the yard outside the seized wing all night and guards with machineguns patrolled the area.

Bixby and Superintendent Lagay started an immediate on-the-scene investigation.

Bixby was scheduled to talk to the Trenton convict group along with Robert R. Hannum, a representative of the Osborne Association, a national group interested in prison administration and rehabilitation of convicts.

New York Democrats In Quandary

State Leaders Favor Harriman After Stevenson Refuses

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Political Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrats trotted out their Presidential aspirants at a $100-a-plate dinner Thursday night and found the star of their show was a man who said he couldn't take the nomination—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

This left in a political swivet New York organization leaders who called county chairmen together today for a meeting designed to endorse W. Averell Harriman as the state's favorite son.

The expected Harriman endorsement would make the mutual security administrator a holding candidate who would keep New York's 94-vote convention delegation intact for the July Chicago convention.

Beyond that, there was little expectation that the 60-year-old scion of a wealthy railroad family would go anywhere on a national scale.

In the view of many party politicians here, he would be lucky to land on the Democratic ticket as the nominee for Senate to oppose Republican Senator Irving M. Ives in the November election.

The confusion into which the party had been plunged by President Truman's announcement he would not seek renomination nor accept a draft may have emphasized the finesse with which Stevenson gave the Democrats a chuckling—but probably final — turn-down.

Amuses Audience

In contrast with the unsuccessful attempts of Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee to arouse the party faithful, Stevenson had the banqueteers holding their sides from the moment he began by saying he was making a fraudulent appearance, since he was running only for governor of Illinois, and not for president.

Off the stage, Stevenson told this reporter he was never more serious in his life then when he announced, before coming here, that he is not going to run for president this year. He is seeking re-election as governor of Illinois.

This left a wide field open and Vice President Barkley, the 74-year-old youngster of the party, tried to step into the breach.

Barkley whipped the Democrats into a mild frenzy at the dinner by telling them their party is bound to win in November, "because it deserves to win, because it is right."

The Vice President indicated to me that he has no present intention of announcing whether he is a candidate.

Barkley Darkhorse

This seemed to make Barkley, always a popular figure with the Democrats, the chief darkhorse candidate in a campaign where there now is no dominate personality in preconvention speculation.

Harriman, praised by every speaker as a patriot who had spent 15 years in government service, bid for national recognition in a bouncing, televised speech.

He said foreign and domestic policies couldn't be divided, deopponents already have begun to

Calls Recess In Western Electric Talks

NEW YORK (AP)—Marathon mediation sessions to settle the 12-day-old strike of Western Electric workers recessed early today with new meetings scheduled.

There was no comment by either side on the results of the parleys, which started at 2 p.m. (EST) Thursday.

But long distance telephone service was reported improved Thursday as was the outlook of federal mediators. They said some issues in the strike have been settled, although major ones still remain.

Some 17,000 Western Electric equipment installers and sales personnel, members of the CIO Communications Workers of America (CWA), struck in 43 states over wage demands.

Telephone service was hit when some operators refused to cross the installers' picket lines.

Meanwhile, the two-week-old Western Union strike continues, over a wage dispute involving 31,000 members of the AFL (Commercial Telegraphers' Union (CTU). The union says its strike is "98 per cent effective." The company says it is maintaining service in more than 1,000 towns and cities. Federal mediators are conferring with both sides in Washington.

The Western Electric workers struck over a demand for a 23 cents an hour wage increase. present wages average $1.64 to $1.77. Western Electric has offered 12 to 17 cents.

Others Say Remark Merely Unfortunate

Dictator Threat Seen In Truman's Implication He Could Seize Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—Editors of leading American newspapers today hoped for White House clarification of President Truman's news conference remark which implied he felt he had the right to seize newspapers and radio stations, as he did the steel industry, if it would best serve the country.

Some of the editors who were among the 250 newsmen present at the conference Thursday protested afterward that if such power exists the nation is close to dictatorship.

The explosive issue was touched off when the President was asked this question:

"If it is proper to seize the steel mills, can you in your opinion, seize the newspapers and radio stations?"

Truman replied that under similar circumstances, the President of the United States has to act for whatever is for the best of the country. That is the answer, he added.

Many editors promptly interpreted this as implying, if not specifically claiming, the power to seize newspapers and radio stations as he seized the strike-threatened steel industry last week.

Reaction Varied

Reaction of editors here attending the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE), many of whom were at the news conference, ranged from cries of dictatorship to belief the answer was merely unfortunate.

Sample comments:

E. K. Gaylord of the Daily Oklahoman and Oklahoma City Times: "If the President could do that (seize newspapers), we're pretty close to dictatorship."

Alexander F. Jones, ASNE president and editor of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Herald-Journal: "If he has the power to seize steel mills, newspapers and radio, I see no reason why he does not have the right to seize farms on the basis that the cost of food is too high."

Lester Markel, Sunday editor, New York Times: "The steel mills are not organs of public opinion, but the newspapers are."

Norman E. Isaacs, Louisville Times: "As between steel and newspapers, the cases simply are not parallel. I think the question may have been phrased unfortunately, but the President answered in an even more unfortunate manner."

Recalls Another Incident

The incident recalled the reaction that followed Truman's order to government agencies to "classify" information available for publication. He gave civilian agencies—outside the defense department and the State Department, which already had the power— right to withhold from publication any information they consider "top secret" or "confidential."

Newspaper editors at that time attacked the move as a blow to freedom of the press, saying it could lead to covering up of mistakes by classifying information about such things as "top secret."

Thursday's news conference, the 300th since Truman became President, was on the whole good-natured, with frequent laughter. It also was one of the largest—520 present—and the longest—40 minutes.

Highlights of Conference

Highlights of Truman's answers to other questions:

1. "I have tried my best to

Work On New Y May Start Next Week

Shovels may start swinging next week on construction of Marion's new YMCA, Arthur L. Haas, general secretary of the Y, said today.

Only legal details have to be completed before actual construction begins. Haas said contracts with contractors will probably be signed Monday.

He said the low bid of Chochran Electric Co. of Mt Vernon has been accepted for the electrical work. A check of the company's figure of $39,710 was made before awarding the contract.

Other companies awarded contracts for low bids were: Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine, general construction; E. W. File Co. of Lima, plumbing; and Wisser & Gabler Co. of Coalhothe, heating and ventilating.

Some of the firms awarded contracts have already begun buying materials to begin construction, he said.

Miami Jeweler Victimized

Pays $15,200 "Ransom" In Phony Kidnaping

MIAMI, FLA. (AP) A wealthy Miami jeweler paid $15,200 "ransom" for return of his six-year-old son Thursday in what police called a phony kidnaping.

Daniel Richter was duped into paying $15,000 in jewels and $200 cash in what police said was "one of the cleverest and most perfectly timed" extortions in memory.

The boy, Richard, was never actually kidnapped, police said, although Richter was convinced he was buying his son's safe return.

While police and the FBI marshalled forces to meet what they thought was a genuine kidnaping, the child was tidying in a cab from a private school at Miami Beach to Doctor's Hospital in Coral Gables, a distance of about 12 miles.

Police said the plotters used the school, the taxi company and the hospital as unwilling dupes in their shakedown.

As police reconstructed the crime, it happened this way:

A man who said he was "Dr. Henderson" called the Yellow Cab Co., at Miami Beach and asked them to pick up Ricky Richter at Coburn School and drive him to the hospital, purportedly to be with his "gravely ill" mother.

Almost simultaneously, a woman's voice called the school authorities and said a taxi driver would arrive soon to pick up the boy.

Cab driver Bert Walowitz, 24, was sent to the school and picked up the boy. One member of the gang must have watched him because a telephone call then went

Wyandot Co. Cattlemen Hear Speaker

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Forty Wyandot County beef producers heard John Bricker, manager of the Cleveland Producers, discuss the 64-dollar questions at a recent beef cattle meeting in the court house, Upper Sandusky, on the outlook of the beef cattle market.

Mr. Bricker said he thought cattle that would grade choice to prime should be held in the summer while commercial to good cattle should be moved on to the market as soon as they reach the grade. Although it is hard to foresee the future, he said he looks for feeders to be purchased cheaper this fall than a year ago.

Following Mr. Bricker's talk the group decided to organize a Wyandot County Beef Cattle Association. Before, the group was only organized as a committee.

Following the organizational procedure the following officers were elected to head the new association: Glenn Kieffer, president; Orville Cook, vice president; W. W. Wharton, secretary; George Eyestone, treasurer and D. E. Heckathorn, county representative to the Ohio Cattle Feeders Association.

Mr. Heckathorn reported to the group on the developments of the research committee of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Association.

S. C. Cashman, County Agricultural Agent, announced the date of June 13 as Beef Cattle Day at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and urged all county cattlemen to attend.

650 Attend PTA District Meeting Here

Marion Units Hosts For Spring Session Of Central Ohio Area

Nearly 650 persons from throughout central Ohio were in attendance Wednesday when the Marion PTA units were host for the annual spring conference of the Central Ohio District, Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Sessions in the one-day affair were held in the First Presbyterian Church, with luncheons at noon being served in that church and also in the First Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Mrs. Russell S. Moore of Worthington, Central District director, presided for the conference and gave the call to order to open the day's activities. The pledge to the flag and group singing of the national anthem was followed by the invocation spoken by the Rev. J. Paul Goebel, pastor of the First E. and R. Church.

PHANTOM GUNMAN. Evan Charles Thomas, 29, sits in custody in Los Angeles after admitting, said Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz, that he is the phantom gunman who killed one woman and injured at least three other women and a girl since last August. "I just got a lot of personal satisfaction out of it," the sheriff quoted him as saying. Thomas was caught after a shot whizzed past Mrs. Joan Hiles, a neighbor, only 10 minutes after he visited her.

Mrs. Rinnert Gives Greeting

A welcome to the entire delegation was extended by Mrs. John Rinnert, president of the Marion City PTA Council, and greetings were extended by the Rev. Howard L. Olewiler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Lester L. Dickey, city school superintendent. The response was by Mrs. Moore. Guests were introduced by Mrs. Moore. Special music on the program was by the Harding High School a cappella choir, directed by L. G. Jones.

The president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Lorin C. Staats of Athens, was present for the conference and gave a talk on "As the Twig Is Bent." Mrs. Staats told of how children who get the wrong start in life will grow up to continue along that path. She explained it is the responsibility of the parents to teach their children the right way of life.

11 Group Conferences

Eleven group conferences on subjects pertaining to PTA work were held during the morning, with members of the board of managers of the Ohio Congress as the leaders. The various groups and the leaders included: Mrs. Staats, parent education; Mrs. W. C. Story of Cincinnati, leadership training; Mrs. Smith Witter of Canton, budget and treasurers; Mrs. U. S. Curnutt of Dayton, publications and magazines; Dickey, juvenile protection; C. L. Dumaree of Columbus, narcotics; Mrs. Russell C. Bickel of Columbus, study of constitutional convention; R. Bruce Tom of Columbus, program; John H. Sittig of Columbus, radio and television; Mrs. Walter W. Denney of Columbus, preschool; and Don D. Longnecker of Dayton, motion pictures and visual education.

In the afternoon session, a summary of the morning conferences was given by Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal of Glenwood School. Speaker was Miss Philomen Gregg, principal of Greenwood and Pearl St. Schools. Talking on the subject "Principally Speaking," she told how the principal sees the children grow and gave her views of how youngsters can assume responsibility of helping the younger children.

Special music was provided by a Harding High School string trio, special recognition was given 12 new units in the district, and local chairmen were introduced.

Only Boat Builder Here

Marion Man Builds Small Boats In Home Workshop

By EMORY J. ANDERSON

Henday B. Ayres, 80, of 1200 Merkle Ave. is probably Marion's only professional boat builder. Ayres builds light plywood outboard runabouts in his home workshop

He builds his boats by rule of thumb, which does not mean hit or miss for he has definite plans.

He keeps a table of angles on a scrap of board for the curve of bottom frames, and he keeps widths and lengths in his head. His boats are built of plywood, with oak frames and stem pieces, and when finished they usually weigh less than 100 pounds, depending on the length. The usual length of the boats are between 12 and 18 feet.

Ayres has definite ideas about boats and believes people should be shown how to build their own, since that is the cheapest way and it is a lot of fun.

He built his first boat, a dugout canoe, when he was about 10 years old.

Besides being Marion's only boat builder, Ayres is probably Marion's only veteran of the Boer War in South Africa in 1900. A native of New York state, living in Canada for some time, Ayres volunteered for service in Toronto. He was wounded in the shoulder and the hand and was sent to England to recuperate

After working on wooden sailing yachts in Canadian yards and building houses and barns in Michigan, Ayres came to Marion County in 1930. He stopped off on a trip to visit an old friend, Wesley King, a former Marion County commissioner living near Cardington.

He worked at odd jobs, repairing houses, and in 1940, he started to rebuild old furniture. During World War II he repaired electric motors for several Marion companies and after the war he returned to his furniture repair business.

In 1947 he began building boats on a full-time basis and moved from his former home on E. Fairground St to the one he built himself on Merkle Ave.

Ayres was born in 1872 on an Indian reservation near Lockport, N. Y, the grandson of an Indian chief. His father's designation on the reservation was Bow Man, for his skill with a bow and arrow.

He was raised near Tonawanda, N. Y., and for a while, sailed on sailing yachts as a crew member out of Great Lakes ports

He is married and the father of a 13-year-old boy, Robert Ayres. He is in the sixth grade at Oakland Heights School, and a Marion Star paper boy.

Not for Stevenson

THOSE who know Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson say he has been deeply disturbed by the boom for his presidential nomination.

They feel sure that his refusal to accept a nomination is dictated by strong personal considerations. The governor of Illinois is said to be a highly introspective man who finds it difficult to think about presidential politics objectively.

If he were an extrovert, Gov. Stevenson might be ever more disturbed by the prospect of a Democratic presidential nomination in 1952. He might be as disturbed as Sen. Connally was after a visit in his home state of Texas. When he returned to Washington Sen. Connally made it known he would not accept the Democratic nomination for senator. He had discovered during his visit that it would be futile to run for the office. He was too closely identified with the Truman administration to suit Texas.

Gov. Stevenson is young enough to run for a Democratic presidential nomination some other year, some year when he is not handicapped by the information that he is the Truman administration's choice.

Congress Out to Lunch?

CRITICISM of Congress for failure to straighten out the steel problem in jig time is unfair.

Congress did not know what President Truman was going to do until he did it. Mr. Truman himself, did not know what he was going to do until he did it.

Congress then could do nothing to undo what had been done. It was caught in the same dilemma which has plagued the Republicans in Congress: it was confronted with a "fait accompli" which it could not undo.

Neither could it foresee with certainty what Mr. Truman's next move in the same direction might be. And it could not logically bar him from making any move whatever in that direction, because laws must be left flexible enough to provide a reasonable amount of executive leeway.

It must do what is necessary to preserve a government of law from the kind of threat which has been raised by Harry Truman and his power-happy advisers. Congress cannot undo the damage done by the steel seizure, but unless it wants to be "out to lunch" when needed on the job it can avert further damage of the same kind.

Challenge and Opportunity

NEVER in recent years has a rampaging river thrown down a greater challenge to flood engineers than the mighty Missouri at an all-time flood crest.

There is a great opportunity to prove that the Pick-Sloan plan of control properly and well-being from the flood menace. Everything that has been done so far, monumental as it has been, is still not enough. The over-all plan of control being carried out under the direction of Col. Lewis A. Pick, Army engineer in charge of the Missouri River division at Omaha, might not have been successful even had it been finished. Part of the plan had been thwarted by conflict between navigationists and reclamationists.

Out of that squabble came the proposal for a Missouri Valley Authority. But the proposed MVA only set off a new and greater squabble, because here was a blueprint for a regional authority which would dwarf TVA in size. The area of the Tennessee basin is 41,000 square miles. The area of the Missouri basin is more than 500,000 square miles.

The question, still unsettled, is whether or not sound public policy calls for the creation of a tremendous new government authority to deal with the problem of the Missouri River. The river's challenge calls for strong answers. But so does the challenge of government power.

Realities of Politics

EVERY politician reveals in his memoirs if they are honest, that the realities of his side were only distantly related to the issues which he talked about.

One of the most important of the realities in presidential politics is the key vote of large cities.

If Harry Truman had not carried Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) and Cook County (Chicago) in 1948 he would have been defeated by Thomas E. Dewey. As it was Mr. Truman's electors squeaked through in Ohio and Illinois because his organizations in the two cities piled up enough votes to offset his deficits in the two states at large. In Ohio a 43,000 majority in Cuyahoga County gave him a 7,000 majority in the state. In Illinois a 201,000 majority in Cook County gave him a 33,000 majority in the state.

If the same thing had happened in New York City, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Detroit and Baltimore, Mr. Truman would have won by a landslide, as far as electoral votes were concerned.

A popular vote of only 21,105,812 against a total of 24,296,258 for Dewey, Wallace and Thurmond, Mr. Truman won easily in the electoral college—303 as against 189 for Dewey and 39 for Thurmond.

Between now and election day, watch the realities as well as the issues. Elections are won and lost according to realities, not issues.

View of Primary Results

By David Lawrence

They Can't Be Regarded as Decisive

WASHINGTON

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE are getting accustomed now to something many citizens didn't realize a few weeks ago—they are learning that the results of the state primaries are by no means conclusive. When Senator Taft wins a primary as he did in Illinois, the Eisenhower supporters get a bit dejected. Then when the general comes out on top as he did in New Jersey, the Taft managers by their comments do everything they can to minimize the importance of the victory.

Actually the preconvention campaign is running true to form. The majority of the delegates will do the nominating and very few states have primaries. The battle for prestige in the eyes of the public and the battle of interpretations as to what this or that primary means continues as always.

The contest in the Republican party is by no means settled for anybody. Even those who think that neither Taft nor Eisenhower will have a majority and that the Taft strength will swing to General MacArthur haven't anything to bolster this view on except the tendency in past deadlocks to seek a compromise candidate.

Issues and situations often change the whole picture. Back in 1912 Champ Clark, then speaker of the House of Representatives, had the Democratic nomination apparently sewed up and the followers of Woodrow Wilson were fighting an uphill battle. It was almost on the eve of the convention that William Jennings Bryan interposed his issue of progressivism versus conservatism inside the party and the political fur started to fly. The Clark strength was prevented from growing and in the end couldn't achieve the necessary two-thirds.

THERE IS NO parallel development in the offing just now but events sometimes make issues. Thus if General Eisenhower were in the United States today, he would have a hard time refraining from comment on the seizure by President Truman of the steel industry. Senator Taft is in an advantageous position in being able to dramatize this issue by statements on the floor of the Senate.

If the industrial situation becomes more serious in the future than it has been, the chances of involving all Republican candidates in it will increase. It is a basic and fundamental controversy. The Democrats are trying to say it's just an issue of greed by steel companies or refusal to pay higher wages but the fact is that it is an issue involving usurpation of constitutional power. No matter what benevolent objective is being sought, the argument that the end justifies the means is not persuasive. It has been worn threadbare by the Fair Deal now as well as by the New Deal.

The Democratic party's situation grows no better due to Mr. Truman's blunders. Having declined to accept renomination, the President is not helping his party by his recent behavior on public policies.

THE FACT THAT Governor Stevenson of Illinois has decided not to run is significant. Would anybody turn down a party's nomination if victory were assured? The friends of Governor Stevenson who want him to continue as the chief executive in Illinois would be happy, too, to have him become President but what they really fear is that they may lose a Democratic governor and fail to elect a Democratic president.

Who then will take the risks of a Democratic nomination? Is Averell Harriman being seriously advanced by New York Democrats? Why do the political machines turn their backs on Senator Kefauver of Tennessee who obviously has strength with the Democratic voters? Who else have the Democrats available? Vice President Barkley is in every sense except one a good candidate. He is an experienced legislator and a man of ability, familiar with national problems. But, despite his youthful appearance and vigor, the rank and file of the delegates will hesitate to name him because of his age—and unless MacArthur, who is 72, is named on the Republican ticket, it isn't likely that Barkley will be chosen on the Democratic side.

The possibility still exists that the Democrats will turn to Truman in desperation. There are many Democratic officeholders who actually believe Truman's campaigning won for him in 1948 and that he can do it again. As the Democratic aspirants are looked over in the next few weeks, many of the party managers will say to themselves they could at least nominate Truman and ask him to run again. Maybe if Taft is the nominee Mr. Truman might change his mind. That is the impression often conveyed in the past by his intimates. The unexpected sometimes happens in politics—just when everybody is certain it can't happen.

Money Muddle

By TRUMAN TWILL

CERTAINLY there never has been a civilization which knew more about raising money than this one which is such a soft touch a crook once cleaned up handsomely by running a newspaper ad admonishing laggards to send in their dollars—only a few days left.

He did not have to specify what the dollars were for.

Yet when there is money to be raised for local purposes by groups which do not have access to expert techniques it's harder than pulling teeth where there are no teeth left to pull.

An organization of which the writer is a dues-paying member has been beating its brains and its collective guns for a way to raise a couple of hundred dollars to pay for an essential piece of equipment in a new school building.

It could be demonstrated with a simple flip of the imagination that this cause is at least as worthy as most of the things the American people underwrite in other parts of their own country and in other parts of the world. But whereas millions and billions can be pumped out of generous hearts for those purposes getting a couple hundred dollars for something at home is a puzzler.

THE SITUATION suggests the same invidious comparison made between local government struggling to collect enough public income to pay for basic housekeeping while the federal government puts on a big enough bite to raise billions to squander on frills and fiddlesticks.

It suggests there has been a loss of perspective in the handling of wherewithal. It suggests moreover that the loss of perspective has been brought about by deliberate distortion of reality. The distortion has been brought about in turn by the abuse of publicity and the abuse of taxing power.

Let a neighbor solicit a buck to do something in the neighborhood or a local politician ask for a slight increase in tax rates and everybody clutches his pocketbook. But let some remote organization ask for a couple of million or a federal spokesman demand a couple of billion — and they get it without a whimper.

By some weird hocus-pocus the American people have been hoodwinked into an upside-down pattern of reasoning about the distribution of the wealth they create with their own efforts. They are Johnny-on-the-spot when it's a matter of shipping money elsewhere but when someone proposes to use a little at home they lick their lips and get the fidgets.

THE DAMAGE is compounded because remote-control spending has hit such a costly pace there literally is nothing left for the local yokels to dispose of. The cupboard is bare. By the time a taxpayer has turned over the big bite to the tender mercies of the U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue and doled out a lot of little bits to all the well-publicized do-gooders clamoring for it he is not merely scraping the barrel but has gone through the bottom.

No wonder he then begins to think about trotting to Washington to see if he can't get a rebate. Maybe a few hundred bucks to do something for himself back home along with all the good he is going to do for people he never will see who staked out a prior claim on his earnings while he was thinking about something else.

Daily Bible Thought

The meanest person is the selfish soul who begrudges his friends and neighbors the good things they enjoy. I must be your neighbor's frugality and thrift, his industry and fidelity, and win the fruit of these virtues. Thou shalt not covet.'—Ex. 20:17.

Comment From Truman's Roll of "Liars"

By George E. Sokolsky

ON JUNE 21, 1949, President Harry Truman wrote to his former Secretary of State, James Byrnes, as follows:

'Dear Jim:

I appreciate very much your note of the 17th enclosing me a copy of the letter to Drew Pearson. Since I never read Mr. Pearson or listen to him I didn't know his statement had appeared. I don't think he ever told the truth intentionally.

'I never read or listen to Walter Winchell, Westbrook Pegler, George Sokolsky or John O'Donnell or any of the other liars for the simple reason that it just stirs you up for no good purpose. When history is written the facts will speak for themselves.

"It was always customary for the State Department to accuse the White House of having leaks and for the White House to accuse the State Department of having leaks. I don't know which was correct—maybe both.

'Sincerely yours,

'/s/ Harry Truman'

I had not known until this morning when I wrote of this that the President held me in such esteem. I wonder how if he never read or listened to me he knows that I am a liar. Also, it would be interesting to have a bill of particulars—precisely what did I write in 1949 that bothered the President so much?

I DO NOT KNOW how Pegler or Winchell or O'Donnell feels about it but I am pleased that Harry Truman spelled my name correctly. It is a difficult name. Unless a person sees my kind of a name often, he does not readily remember it and either calls me by the name of a more famous aviation engineer or an even more famous conductor. Thanks for the compliment, Mr. President!

I looked up my records to discover what I might have written on June 20 or June 21, 1949 to call me to the President's attention. On June 20 I wrote an article on Whittaker Chambers in which I called attention to the probability of Alger Hiss' guilt.

You may recall that President Truman called the charges against Alger Hiss a red herring, but I had already then for 10 years been writing about the dingers of the Harold Ware cell in Washington to which Hiss belonged. Admittedly, I wrote with caution because as the administration was protecting its Communists, I had to avoid libel.

ON THE RECORD, Alger Hiss was convicted after investigation by the House committee on Un-American activities, grand jury proceedings and two public trials. Again, on the record Harry Truman talked nonsense when he referred to the Hiss matter as a red herring.

As regards the article of June 21 1949 I wrote on a reader's judgment that Senator Hickenlooper was smearing Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lilienthal. I said:

'. . . Congress may sometimes hit out blindly in the course of an inquiry and hurt an innocent person. On balance this evil has been trifling except for the particular individual compared with the great good done by congressional committees."

On the record Mr. Truman has fought with every Congress, the 79th, the 80th, the 81st and the 82nd since he has been President. He apparently assumes that the President is the leader of Congress and that that body must obey his wishes and whims.

He regards himself as the smartest man that ever lived except General George Marshall, who is the greatest American that ever lived. I don't know how he places Dean Acheson in relationship to himself and George Marshall.

IN HIS SAME LETTER that Harry Truman wrote to James Byrnes, he added a postscript in his own hand. Concerning this postscript Secretary Byrnes writes in his article in Collier's' magazine: "The postscript reads:

Since your Washington & Lee speech I'm sure I know how Caesar felt when he said: 'Et tu Brute!'

By-nes replied that he was no Brutus and that Truman was no Caesar, which you can take any way you like. Brutus stabbed Caesar in the back in event which gave Shakespeare chance to write a great play and Mark Antony a wonderful speech that schoolboys used to learn by heart before progressive education abolished memory.

Harry Truman who boasts a phenomenal knowledge of history may recall what happened to Rome under Caesar's successors. It ceased to be a republic and went slowly to hell.

Our Little Caesar

By Raymond Moley

IT IS BECOMING more and more clear that neither President Truman nor his lawyers know yet how they are to justify the seizure of the steel industry. Apparently the President moved pell-mell with little or no advice in this great decision, just as he did when he sent ground troops into Korea or when he wrote the numerous indiscreet letters we have heard about.

This steel business reveals the actions of a man of small stature, with an inflated ego, a stubborn disposition, and an abiding respect for political obligations. Such men create for themselves contempt for the exact and learned reasoning of experts. When in positions of great power they act first and expect their lawyers like mere clerks, to find justification for their actions.

In this case the matter was made worse by the fact that there was no real attorney general. McGrath was gone and McGranery was new and unconfirmed. The lawyers who have appeared so far, in the two instances where steel companies have got into court, seem to be completely unprepared.

THESE GOVERNMENT lawyers in the first case were greatly helped by the attitude of Judge Holtzoff. The judge himself sidestepped — rather awkwardly, it must be said—the real issues. He refused to consider the legal merits of the seizure but took refuge behind the assertion that he had no power to issue a restraining order against Secretary Sawyer, since that in effect would be 'to restrain the President of the United States.'

That is absurd since if logically applied it would put every one of the millions responsible to the President above and beyond law and the courts. It is also grossly inconsistent for Judge Holtzoff to make such a decision because within the month he acted as one of three federal judges in the test of the lobbying act and barred Attorney General McGrath from enforcing it. The secretary of commerce and the attorney general are equally close to the President. What applies to one should apply to the other.

IN THE LATER case before District Judge Pine, the industry lawyers sought a hearing on the legal and constitutional aspects of the seizure. Government lawyers claimed that they needed more time to prepare. They demanded 60 days. One lawyer made the astonishing statement that the case was suddenly dropped in our laps' and that they needed time to prepare.

The day before, in Judge Holtzoff's court, the same lawyer projected an opinion very sharply reacted against him. The court

I hear the Washington Senators have asked Mr. Truman to seize the league and have Chas. Sawyer award them a place in the first division.

The Senators don't have the best club in baseball but they have all the good fans except Lardner. Day and they should be able to get her if the President will just use his 'inherent powers.'

'Inherent powers' means 'you'll go crazy looking for this one in the Constitution but you won't find it.'

Much has been made of the fact that Mr. Truman can pitch a baseball with either hand but the steel makers say that's nothing to the way he fast-balled them no hands.

Stalin Can Wait—4

Reds Gain More By Propaganda Than By Force; West Now Out To Beat Russians At Own Game

Three articles in this series have shown the Stalin strategy in Europe—to play a waiting game, striking whenever the opportunity offers, building up a compact organization ready for bigger chances. Today, in the final article of his series William L. Ryan looks at some of the things the West already is doing in the battle to keep Western Europe away from Soviet domination.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

LONDON (AP)—The towers of the Kremlin throw long shadows.

Tight-knit party organizations, all cast in a single mold, all tied to the strings of the master puppeteers in Moscow, work incessantly and unquestioningly to glorify Stalin.

From the jungles of Malaya to the streets of London; from the desert sands of Africa to the sunlit boulevards of Paris, Communists are tied together by a single goal and a common discipline. The goal: to reshape civilization in the image of the Soviet Union. The discipline: everything for Moscow.

This is what the West faces. More and more, diplomats in this part of the world are expressing the opinion that the people of the West must recognize as a fact that the Stalinists are strong, that they are organized, that they constitute a powerful menace to Western ways of life.

Realizing this, say these diplomats, the West will make itself that much stronger, will know where and how to counter Stalin's maneuvers.

In the military field, much has been done already and there is much more to be done. But even now there is a noticeable rise in confidence in Western Europe. If the showdown should come, say military men, the West could give a good account of itself along the Rhine while its air power raced into action.

But how about the propaganda field?

COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA everywhere has been on the offensive. It has been successful in many instances. The technique of the big lie, learned from Joseph Goebbels, is being used to an extent Goebbels never dreamed of.

Appeals to self interest are carefully launched and have brought results. The International Economic Conference in Moscow, just ended, served the Kremlin well. Moscow's bait of profits has been a strong lure. Moscow has looked at all the sore points in the West and promised relief. Is there a slump in Britain's textile industry? Moscow indicates she will buy textiles. Is there unemployment in Italy? Moscow indicates full scale trade with the East will ease that.

Moscow's performance never matches her propaganda. But the propaganda is aggressive. Wherever there is discontent, wherever there is human misery, wherever there is fear of suffering or hunger, the agents of Moscow are active. They are schooled in capitalizing on human ills, trained to turn despair into a bloody political weapon, intent on answering prayers for deliverance with the shackles of dictatorship.

Can the West seize and hold the propaganda offensive?

THERE ARE SOME concrete proposals at hand, and some concrete action designed to snatch the initiative from the Communists.

The International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU), the Western workers' answer to the Communist World Federation of Trade Unions (WFTU), is readying a full blast campaign which will take the issue of freedom or slavery directly into the factories and to mass groups throughout Europe and the Middle East.

An international organization of counter-propaganda has grown up from the efforts of one Frenchman, Jean-Paul David, to catch Moscow off base.

Radio Free Europe and RIAS, the American radio in Berlin, have highly effective programs.

Responsible British sources are suggesting a general Allied council to counter the Cominform, to anticipate its moves and to bring Cominform operations clearly into the light of day.

There is growing impatience throughout Europe with the constant defensive attitude of the West in the face of Moscow's thrusts. Some officials insist that the Russians are in reality poor propagandists, and that it is only by the sheer number of words and the constant repetition that some of the propaganda sinks in.

However, the influx into Vienna of Western specialists with Communist views is giving some Western know-how to the Moscow propaganda efforts, and permitting the Kremlin to make hay in its long-range campaign.

ONE HIGH BRITISH source insists that what the Western Allies need is a massive counter-offensive. This is his view: the West should go into Vienna determined to expose the Cominform and the WFTU at every turn, to fight every step of the way, to take full advantage of every Kremlin flipflop, of every Kremlin blunder. The West should play heavily on Russian fear to show what goes on behind the Iron Curtain, and dramatize this at every turn. Every Russian evidence of suspicion must be used to Western advantage; to show that every Western move, however innocent, is greeted with deep Soviet distrust.

The ICFTU campaign will get down to brass tacks. The ICFTU, born in 1949 after the Communists seized control of the world federation, now is preparing what is described as a positive program at grass roots levels.

With its great potential strength—the ICFTU includes free trade unions of the United States, Britain and the rest of the free world—it hopes to break through the cynical shells of the Italian and French workers. Many of these workers act today in an apathetic way, like men doped. They are the butt of propaganda from all sides, but they see little change in their own status. Workers in the Middle East are the targets of a renewed drive by the Communist WFTU, which ties in the issue of nationalism with the issues of wages and prices.

The ICFTU'S program would be a totally international movement of the workers themselves, unconnected with any government. The efforts would be channeled through the ICFTU by trade unionists talking the workers' language.

THE PROSPECTIVE slogan is "Deeds, not words." The ICFTU's leaders are convinced most Communists in France and Italy are Communists because of their economic condition, not from political conviction.

The program is not confined to Europe and the Middle East, but eventually would reach out into Asia and Africa. Training schools on a permanent basis are envisioned, to carry the word of the West's ideals of organized labor, the story of collective bargaining in the West, the prospects of sharing in the proceeds of a healthy economy.

Free unions in West Berlin also are taking a positive hand in the counter-offensive. Trade unions there, using underground channels, are plastering walls and workbenches of factories in the Soviet-occupied East zone with tiny paper snails as emblems of resistance to the Russian speedup system.

The free unions intend to push this psychological drive all through East Germany under "the sign of the snail," to build up passive resistance to the speedup, to advise the Eastern worker that he is not forgotten.

Another positive movement has been started in France. As an international movement it is still in its infancy, but it is growing. It has emerged from the "Paix et Liberte" (peace and freedom) campaign organized by businessman Jean-Paul David in Paris to needle the Communists at every turn.

Its success can be gauged from the violent Communist reaction to it. It is now entering the international field, with a council already in being, and is expected to develop from small beginnings into a potent counter-offensive weapon.

There is yet hope that free men will prevail.

Achievement Day Held At Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—Mrs. Dorothey Weick, homemaker from Findlay, and former secretary to Dr. George W. Crane, was the speaker for the annual Achievement Day activities, held at the Upper Sandusky Star Theater Wednesday.

Mrs. Weick, used for her topic "Spring Cleaning." In illustrating how she would like to have everyone clean house, she said that we should replace understanding and love for the hate and prejudices that is so prevalent at these troubled times.

In closing, Mrs. Weick said we should start to rebuild our nation and our home on God, let God come into our home, there would be no hate, no insecurity, no fear, no laziness, no indecision, no indifferance, no false God, or cheating, and no selfishness.

Mrs. Herbert White, homemaker from Columbus was the speaker for the afternoon session. Mrs. White told of "Family Life in Denmark." Mrs. White spoke of the kind of food, the clothing, and the home life of the Danish people.

Mrs. Glenn Altvater, Wharton, vice president of the Wyandot County home council, presided for the morning session. Mrs. C. B. Sweigard, president, Tymochtee Township, presided for the afternoon session.

The Homemaker's Chorus, sang several selections under the direction of Mrs. Vaugh Stuckey.

The group singing was led by Mrs. Eugene Van Buren. A flute quartet composed of Miriam Hale, Phyllis Beausay, Betty Jean Kinsley, and Helen Kinsley from the Upper Sandusky High School rendered several selections. A brass sextet, composed of Corinne Gibson, Dick Krebs, Ruth Binau, Allan Newell, Allen Ulrich and David Meeker, also of the Upper Sandusky public schools rendered several selections.

Several short skits were given during the two programs, by members of the different home council groups. Handwork, including rugs of all types, textile paintings, and pocketbooks, all projects of the past year were displayed in the lobby of the theater.

rebuked him for it. He said: "I think in the last analysis it is fair to say that the magnitude of the emergency itself is sufficient to create the power to seize under these circumstances."

This was such absurd but dangerous law that the judge was moved to reply that "Chief Justice Hughes said in one of his opinions that emergencies do not create power."

The chief justice said this in the famous Schechter case: "Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power."

In the same case, Justice Cardozo said that there was "No grant to the Executive of any roving commission to inquire into evils, and then, upon discovering them, to do anything he pleases." Such power, he declared, would be "unconfined and vagrant."

Judge Holtzoff, in admonishing the government lawyer, made it clear that in denying an injunction he was not approving the seizure. He said: "I think that whatever decision I reach I shall not adopt the view that there is anyone in this government whose power is unlimited."

"Every one seemed so pleasant I enjoyd my dinner"

Some new friends dropped in last week. As they left they said, "We enjoyed our dinner. Every one seemed so pleasant." While our food and the way it is prepared is to our way of thinking the best in town, we know that the cordial pleasant atmosphere of this eating place is also important. We believe you will enjoy dining here any time. Welcome, stranger, if you haven't yet dined with us.

Social Affairs

MEMBERS OF THE Literature Study Club and their guests visited New York theaters in an entertaining hour's tour with Stuart A. Postle Jr. Wednesday evening at the Women's Club Home. The occasion was the club's annual guest night party.

A speech instructor at Ohio Wesleyan University, Mr Postle also is in charge of the college radio station. His varied background includes work at Stevens College as a speech instructor, service as a major in the Intelligence department of the U. S. Army and a former actor on the legitimate stage. His interest in theaters takes him to New York several times each year where he attends the hits of the season.

Providing a pleasing complement to the program was the music of Miss Wanda McMahan, pianist and William Dowler, vocalist. Their selections included music from well known theatrical productions.

Mr. Postle's topic was "Broadway After Dark." The worst in the history of the American Theater was his description of the current season, and "average" was his opinion of the theatrical bill of fare. For the most part he had much in the way of praise for the work of the actors and actresses, but in his opinion they have little good material this season with which to display their talents.

"Paint Your Wagon" he described as loud and gaudy, the costumes as pretty, and he praised the work of James Barton, a revival of "Pal Joey" was recommended as worth seeing because of the talent, although everybody in it is a "louse;" "South Pacific" now three years old, is still fresh and good, and while he disagrees with many as to the merits of Gertrude Lawrence as an actress, he found "The King and I" delicate, fragile and pleasant. His thumbnail sketches of other Broadway hits were equally as entertaining and pointed.

Miss McMahan played the scherzo from Friml's "Bohemian Suite" and Mr. Dowler's selections included "Spring's a Loveable Lady," Elliott, "Spring Came Back to Vienna," from "Luxury Liner," Rotter, "I Hear a Rhapsody," Fargos, and "Some Enchanted Evening," from the Rogers & Hammerstein "South Pacific." Mrs. Harry Hammond presided as program chairman.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs Lester Huhn, president of the club and for roll call the members presented their guests. Greetings were extended by Mrs. Walter E. Hane, president of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs.

During a social hour refreshments were served from an attractively decorated table in the dining room where Mrs. Huhn, and Mrs. Wayne Jenkins, president-elect of the club, presided. The floral centerpiece held yellow daffodils and purple iris and at either side were lighted yellow tapers in crystal holders. In charge were members of the social committee, Miss Irene Huhn, chairman. Mrs. Ralph Terrall, Mrs. Ralph Burton, Mrs D. N. Bohyer and Mrs. Helen Roby.

Guests included Mrs. Hane, Mrs. J. Edwin Probst, president-elect of the Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Grey Stine, Mrs. Harry Lutye, Mrs Harley Walker, Mrs Harry Robbins, Mrs. Paul Bachman, Mrs Fleta Hankel, Mrs. Jack Beisler, Mrs. Richard Wright Mrs. Ellen Wiedemann, Mrs. J H Vrooman, Mrs. Joseph Bearder, Mrs Andrew E. Smith, Misses Lucile Foreman, Philomen Gregg, Gertrude Haberman, Mary Alice Boyd Katherine Moore, Audrey Bolander, Mary Jo Stafford, Minnie Winder, Mary Katherine Smith and Edna Dutton.

The annual guest day luncheon of the Ben Hur Club was held Monday at Ringer's Inn Mrs. R. S. Smallwood gave devotions and the scripture. Mrs. E. W. Koeppen, program chairman, discussed "The Little Brown Church in the Wildwood." She talked on the writing of the song and building of the church of that title Guests were Mrs. Albert Wintermute, Mrs Raymond Klingel, Mrs Fern Lamb, Mrs Blanche Williams, Mrs. Daisy Felty, Mrs Blyss Bonner and Mrs. Almira Salsbury of Richwood.

The Altrurian Club voted to make a contribution to the Easter Seal Drive when the club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. N. Geddis of 305 Summit St. Mrs. Hugo Malo gave devotions Mrs. F. W. Williams presented a special Easter poem. A paper on spring, including the story, "The Runaway," was given by Mrs. John Hall. The hostess was assisted by her daughter Janet. The next meeting will be with Mrs. M. S. Miller of 1158 E Center St.

Final plans for a benefit bridge party were made at Monday's meeting of the Marion Sorosis Club at the Federation Home. The bridge party will be held April 28 at the home. Mrs. M. A. Hendel was in charge of the program, which included colored movies, "Ohio Water Wealth" and "This Is Life," shown by Thomas Bain, Mrs. R A. Maxim and Mrs. Robert Stief were hostesses.

Mrs. Dorothy Norton was a guest when the Jai Lai Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Edna Lore of near Marion. Euchre was played with high honors going to Mrs. Martha Kinsler, lone hand to Mrs. Norton and consolation prize to Mrs Margaret Harbolt. The next meeting will be held May 13 at the home of Mrs. Betty Greer at 128 DeWolfe Ct.

Members of the Prospect Senior Circle and officers of the Junior Child Culture League were guests of Iota Delta Circle, Child Conservation League, at a meeting held recently in the community room of the West Town Branch of the National City Bank. Mrs. C. O Stetson was a guest speaker and reviewed "And They Shall Walk" by Sister Elizabeth Kenny. Mrs. C L. Ross, president of the Marion County Society for Crippled Children ,gave a brief talk on the work here.

Announcement was made of a rummage sale to be held April 19 in the Palace Theater building, and plans announced for the installation of officers at the next meeting. Mothers of the members will be guests at the meeting. For roll call the members told of an embarrassing moment. Mrs. D. D. Moyer received the guest award. Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Langdon and Mrs. Russell Simmons, assisted by the social and program committee. For refreshments the decorations were spring flowers and lighted tapers.

Silver Jubilee Observed By Victory Circle

STATE officers and guests from Mansfield, Fostoria, Sidney and Columbus joined members of Our Lady of Victory Circle, 388, Daughters of Isabella, for the celebration of their silver jubilee Tuesday night at Hotel Harding Charter members and past regents were the honored guests.

The banquet and program were held in the ballroom with L. A Axe, who was toastmaster at the organization banquet 25 years ago, again serving in that capacity. Speaker for the evening was the Very Rev. William J Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St. Mary Church and chaplain of the circle.

Mrs. Emma Simmons, regent, extended the welcome, and a quartet composed of Miss Sharon Dunn, Miss Virginia Tobin, Mrs. Mary Ann Corwin and Miss Jeanette Dunn sang, "Our Best To You," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ruth Heckman.

Greetings were expressed by Mrs. Louise Reidy of Sandusky, state regent, Mrs. Mildred Bowman of Sidney, state vice regent and Miss Margaret Quinlisk of Sidney, past state regent. Congratulatory messages and gifts of flowers from other state circles were received.

A roundtable titled "Memories" was conducted by Mrs. Frances Cheney, Miss Margaret Irvin, Miss Josephine Millisor and Mrs. Ann Higley. It depicted some of the outstanding accomplishments of the circle's 25 years. Mentioned were purchase of various vestments, linens and religious articles for St. Mary Church, and carpeting and the purchasing of household articles for the parish rectory.

In his talk, the Rev. Father Spickerman explained the meaning of a jubilee and its origin, and congratulated the circle for its good example in striving for spiritual and temporal benefits for society. He emphasized the organization had been founded to combine the resources and energies of the members for mutual assistance in promotion of high ideals of life and morals and for a mightier force for the advancement of good in the world.

To close Mrs. Margaret Hamilton sang "Our Lady of Fatima," accompanied by Mrs Heckman and the Rev. Father Spickerman led in the recitation of the rosary prayers.

Silver, red and gold appointments were used throughout the ballroom and for the programs and favors. Banquet arrangements were in charge of Miss Geneva Kruskamp, Mrs. Gladys Giles and Mrs. Thelma Ziegler

Alleged Reds Deny Charges In Ohio Probe

CLEVELAND (AP)—Senate investigators wind up a two-day inquiry into Communist activity in northern Ohio today by quizzing seven more witnesses

All seven have been pointed out, in sworn testimony, as Communists by John E Janowitz of Cleveland. Janowitz gathered information in Red circles as a spy for the FBI.

The witnesses, all Clevelanders, are Fred Haug, his wife, Marie Reed Haug, James Maring, Jack Epstein, Fred Gradner, Hy Lumer and Herbert Hirschberg.

They all have been active in staff posts of the Independent United Electrical Workers. This union is the main target of a two-day hearing by the Senate subcommitte on internal security, chairmanned by Senator Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah).

5 Newsmen To Hear Verdicts

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Verdicts will be handed down today in the cases of five newspapermen charged with defaming 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers in an anti-gambling crusade.

The newsmen are Managing Editor Kenneth Dixon of the American Press; publisher Thomas Shearman; his son and co-publisher Hugh Shearman; city editor James Norton, and reporter Carter George.

Judge Bernard Cocke of New Orlean, who tried the newsmen in district court in December, postponed verdicts until he could hear oral arguments and could consider briefs.

Defense attorneys contended that criticism by the newspaper was "fair and just without malice" but the prosecution countered with: "they threw caution to the wind and made no attempt to verify records."

The newsmen were indicted on a total of 14 counts by Grand Jury that had been called last August to investigate gambling and vice.

Ashland College Teacher Talks To University Women

MRS HAROLD ANDREWS of Ashland College was the speaker for the April meeting of the Marion Association of University Women The group met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Kmrk on Mt Vernon Ave

Mrs Lester L. Dickey introduced Mrs. Andrews who teaches English at Ashland College She is an authority on both Shakespeare and the Bible and her topic was "Modern Women in the Ancient World"

Mrs. Andrews said that there are no datelines on great thoughts and expressions, something which is revealed in a study of the Bible and of Greek tragedies, such as those of Aeschylus. She discussed the two streams of culture which were developing at the same time—the Hellenic or Greek and the Hebraic or Hebrew. She believes that there must have been an interplay of thought between those two cultures

Mrs Andrews also discussed the translations of the Bible and emphasized the influence of William Tyndale on English and American speech today. Ninety per cent of the King James' Version of the Bible published in 1611 is based on Tyndale's translation of 1525.

Several peculiarly modern women of the Bible were mentioned: the virtuous woman of the Book of Proverbs, Deborah in the Book of Judges, Ruth, and Esther in Isaiah. Mrs. Andrews concluded with the hope that the Bible might be read for literature as well as for devotion because of its high literary plane The Bible contains "beauty of portrayal, songs, poems, and dramas," and is considered one of the most beautiful books in the world.

Following the talk, Mrs. John Prichard, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of the social hour. Mrs Richard Myers, Mrs John Teeter, Mrs Francis Wands, Mrs Fares Barnhart, and Mrs Thomas Sexton assisted

The next meeting will be a picnic and business meeting at the home of Mrs Merle Hamilton

Nearly Everyone Interested in Question

Daylight Savings Time Seems Favored By Office Workers But Others Oppose Change

BY GEORGE SCOTT

'Do you favor a switch to daylight savings time in Marion?'

That was the question asked some 30 Marion residents from housewives to amateur athletes

The sampling of opinion seems to indicate one thing for sure—Marionites are interested. Most persons interviewed were either staunchly for or against.

The results NO—14, YES—11 and DOESN'T MATTER—5

If any lines could be drawn, it would have to be by occupation. The office workers seem to be generally for daylight saving time. No difference on the issue could be noted between men and women or young and old.

The controversial question was brought up by Louis Conkle fourth ward councilman at the close of last Monday night meeting of the city council. It will be discussed at a special meeting of the council at city hall this coming Monday night. Many Marion residents are expected to attend to hear the pro's and con's.

PROBABLY, one of the persons most strongly opposed to the switch to daylight savings time is Fred Thacker, operator of Marion's two drive-in theatres. The new time would tend to keep down attendance because shows would have to start later and end later.

Most persons in favor of daylight saving like it because of that extra hour of light in the evening.

Just the week Mansfield's city council voted to try daylight savings time. But the voters will get the final say so when they vote on the issue in November.

Here's how some Marion residents feel about the question.

Mrs. Gail A. Baker of 187 London St.: We don't travel much any more so it doesn't matter too much. But when my husband used to travel a lot it made things difficult because of the difference in train schedules.

Mrs. Charles F. Kerrey of 285 Marion Ave.: Personally I like daylight savings because of that extra hour in the evenings.

FAIR DARLING of 390 W. Columbia St.: I don't like it. It might be all right if it was made all over but with it just in spots it's no good.'

Mrs. Minnie Huston of 799 Cheney Ave.: I hope they leave it the way it is. With daylight savings time the children have to go to school when it's dark. It seems kind of inconvenient.

James Baugher of 113 S. Main St.: 'It fouls everything up. All the bus and train schedules are different.'

Mr. A. G. Hacker of 137 Johnson St.: 'It doesn't make a bit of difference. I haven't even thought about it.'

Elmer Shaw of 221 Clover Ave.: I think it's fine for the man who has to work in an office all day long. It gives him some time to get out in the evenings.'

Miss Jane Gabler of 296 Clover Ave.: We don't like it. It stays too light at night and it's too dark in the morning. It seems unnatural. None of us like it here.

Mrs. John Eberhart of 189 N. Grand Ave.: I don't care for it. You have to get up earlier—or at least it looks earlier when it's so dark outside.'

Mrs. Bernard C. Jacobs of 562 Blaine Ave.: I'd like to see it because of that extra hour of daylight.'

FOR KEFAUVER Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) tells newsmen in Washington April 17, that he would not accept the party nomination for president and is throwing his support behind Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee for the Democratic presidential nomination. I am in Kefauver's army, Douglas said. I am enlisted for the duration.'

Commissioners To Sell House In Veterans Project

The Marion County Commissioners will sell at public auction Saturday at 10 a.m. a house which they own at 490 Oak St. They purchased the house a two-apartment dwelling, in 1950 as a part of a veterans housing project.

Money for the purchase came from state funds and money from the sale will go back to the state. Walter Guthery, clerk of the board of commissioners reported. The house is being sold because the state law which set up grants for veterans housing projects has expired.

The Marion County Commissioners have already sold 19 house trailers which they purchased as part of the housing project.

The Oak St. property is valued at about $12,000.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

THE MOB TAKES care of its brood. Each day the underworld reaches up into the routine life of the big city and "makes a fix" in soul-curdling drama that would make a Jim Cagney climax and those TV suspense thrillers seem like a ladies club meeting at the local tomato and watercress sandwich shoppe. Like the afternoon, not too long ago, when Albert (Murder, Inc., Executioner) Anastasia and his late buddy, Willie Moretti, summoned the leader of an AFL international union to a mansion in New Jersey.

The Executioner sat silent—he only looked daggers this day. Willie talked—he always talked. That's what killed him a few weeks later. He couldn't keep his mouth shut. But that afternoon he turned to Hyman Powell leader of the AFL International Jewelry Workers' Union, and screamed:

"Who the hell you are, anyway? You don't fire nobody outta that union in Brooklyn. Behave yourself."

A very sophisticated chap is Powell. He had been around the asphalt jungle long enough to know he might not go out vertically into the Jersey sunshine.

HE HAD A PROBLEM. His Brooklyn local, as was later proved, had been taken over by some of "the boys." He was trying to shake them out, quietly with no trouble. Someone had made a "contact." Willie Moretti, big time gambler, syndicate chief and mobster, sent word out—bring in Powell. The labor leader was driven to Jersey and now he had to say something. Heroics were the last thing he thought of — but he blurted out:

"Look, Mr. Moretti, I respect your influence and want no trouble. The Brooklyn boys have got to go. I can't do otherwise. I never obligated myself to you before anywhere. What happens happens. The Brooklyn outfit has to be cleaned."

Powell left. Some of the boys were fired—but Moretti's retort was lost a week later in the crackling of guns which cut him down. Mr. Powell didn't quite clean out his well-connected Brooklyn local until one of its organizers got himself mixed up in a charge of tampering with a witness in a murder case—the knife slaying of garment union organizer Will Jurve in a Manhattan phone booth.

Mr. Powell certainly is open to searing criticism. He should have moved more swiftly. But so should the 14 big towns in which anti-crime commissions find that such "incidents" happen every day — every day a "fix."

WITHOUT THE sympathy of the community, without public indignation, there frequently is no police protection and the mobs reach up and rule. Who will step forward and say they would have screamed at Anastasia and Moretti to mind their own business? There are some labor leaders who fight back—and there would be more if they had crusading District Attorneys behind them.

I have before me a sheaf of recent decisions prepared by Hugo Ernest, leader of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, showing that he and his officers watch their treasuries like mother hens their eggs. One document says to a former official: "You are charged with signing checks for unauthorized expenditures . . . you are therefore ineligible to hold any office in this international union, any local, joint board or state council or be a delegate to any AFL affiliate . . ."

Other document charge officials with misappropriating funds and, "We hereby judge you guilty and penalize you by expulsion . . ." This goes on and on.

There are others. Joe Curran and Hedley Stone, CIO Sailors Union leaders have warned against new infiltration of professional gamblers who sign on freighters and big ships, carrying crooked dice and marked cards on the European and South American runs.

HARRY ANSLINGER, U. S. narcotics chief, never hesitates to talk well of the Seafarers International Union, which cooperates closely with his department in the apprehension of dope smugglers among crews and along the waterfront.

In New York, a young labor leader, George Barasch, head of the AFL Allied Trades Council, has hit the airwaves and TV lanes in an effort to arouse the housewives by telling them bluntly how labor racketeering corrodes their bread-winners and flattens their pocketbooks.

These are but a few of the many who fight back. There would be more. But they get no support. Never did they need it more. It's easy to be a hero—but not in the parlors of so many Anastasias.

SMOKY WITNESS. Blowing out a puff of smoke, Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, tells the Senate Labor Committee in Washington that the board did not ignore its ceilings in recommending the 17½-cents-an-hour increase for the steelworkers. He backed up President Truman's action in seizing the steel industry.

Monkey Business

By Inez Robb

NEW YORK

THE TRIALS and tribulations of parenthood are endless and getting more so every minute, even when the patter of tiny feet in the household is attributable to a monkey.

Friends of mine became proxy parents of a Brazilian wolly monkey via adoption about five months ago. Ever since they have been hip-deep in formulas, inoculations, baby sitters, and books on simian culture and psychology.

You never dreamed there were books on monkey psychology? Ha! Shows what a fat lot you know about the sensitivity of your ancestors. An infant monkey needs a strong sense of love and security, or he is apt to grow up to be a schizophrenic and a rum pot to boot, if he can find the key to the bar.

If my friends' monkey decides to spend the day with his arms wrapped vise-like around the neck of one or t'other, he must under no circumstances be disentwined least he suffer complete disintegration of his personality, lose contact with reality and become a misfit out of gear with society.

THAT'S WHAT it says in the book. Of course, the husband has been AWOL from his office so much that his job may be AWOL at any moment. And the wife doesn't get much housework done. But this seems to be a natural result of trying to make people out of monkeys, or vice versa.

The parents of human offspring have it just as tough, too, and things are going to get worse before they get better. I have just received through the mail a new gimmick to put the bite on harrassed parents.

It is a comic book, aimed at adolescents or worse, entitled "101 ways you can earn a new bicycle," and was thought up and published, as you may have surmised, by an enterprising bicycle manufacturer. It is guaranteed to drive completely nuts millions of adults.

"When you have saved enough for the first payment," says this book which really proves that comics are dangerous, malicious toxic and irrelevant, "have one of your parents sign a contract with the—bike dealer who offers time payments.

"Or (and here is the double barrelled gimmick) you can have them (the parents, dope!) pay the balance as a loan to you."

SO THERE GOES the money the old man was saving for that new set of matched golf clubs or the money mom was squirreling away for a new parlor rug. Junior gets the bike and the parents get the bird when they try to put the arm on junior for the "loan" in fee simple.

This plan is going to leave the co-signers holding the bag, as usual. It doesn't solve anything to garnishee junior's report card or his collection of match covers.

And what are some of the 101 ways you can earn a bike?

Well, a kid can cut lawns (now, whoever thought of that!), run errands, (naturally on the bike that represents the old man's blood money), rake leaves, paint fences, water lawns, clear snow and ice from sidewalks and driveways, sell pennants and arm bands at sports events, wash, polish and wax cars, baby sit, keep bees, raise mice for laboratories, raise tropical fish, catch worms or minnows for bait, make bird houses, trap furs, (this is strictly the pitch for the ambitious lad in Washington, D.C.), refinish furniture, bathe dogs, and paint cat-tails and sell for home decorations (the most sinister suggestion in the book!).

ALL THESE and many other ways of earning bike money are illustrated in color in this newest of the comic books, it is obvious that any parent, worth his salt, can earn a bike for his baby in any of the above tasks performed in his spare time while junior is off enjoying his new purchase.

There is one further fine suggestion of ways to earn bike money, "sell used comic books," this comic says.

But I am going to send mine for free to my friends with the monkey. No reason in the world that monkey shouldn't have a new bike this spring. Either that or a split personality.

Peach, Banana Mold I Cheap, Tasty Dessert

Color, tastiness and economy—all molded into one, big dessert. That's what this layered peach and banana mold can offer every homemaker. Even the topping is thrifty, because glamorous as it looks and delicious as it tastes, it's made from economical nonfat dry milk.

LAYERED PEACH AND BANANA MOLD

1 pkg lime-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
½ cup canned sliced peaches
1 banana, sliced.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Arrange sliced peaches on bottom of mold. Pour on gelatin, being careful not to disarrange peaches. Add banana. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with thrifty dessert topping, peach slices and banana balls, if desired. Makes six servings.

Thrifty Dessert Topping: Combine ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and 1 teaspoon vanilla in 1-quart mixing bowl. Sprinkle ½ cup nonfat dry milk powder over liquid. Then beat with rotary egg beater about 10 minutes, or until stiff. Sprinkle 3 tablespoons sugar on top and continue beating about 5 minutes longer, or until mixture will stand in peaks. Chill before serving. Makes about 2½ cups topping.

Christophel Is Found Guilty

CINCINNATI (AP)—The four-day murder trial of young Frank Christophel ended Thursday when a criminal court jury found the former Marine guilty of second degree murder in the scissors slaying of his brunette sweetheart.

The jury deliberated only 40 minutes before returning its verdict, which carries a penalty of life imprisonment.

Christophel, 23, pleaded through his attorney for the jury to find him guilty of manslaughter. He contended he had no intention of killing Mrs. Elizabeth (Betty) Sloan, 22, until she slapped him and called him a "sucker" for a pretty face. A manslaughter verdict carries one to 20 years.

Mrs. Sloan was stabbed 24 times with a pair of scissors in her room last Dec. 26.

OPPORTUNITY

Would you like the opportunity to move to a smaller town where living costs are lower and have a permanent job selling new and used Studebaker automobiles?

This is a fine opportunity for a traveling salesman that is tired of traveling and wants to be home with his family and permanently located. This is also a good position for an insurance salesman that knows how to prospect and sell. There is no excess to pay here and a better future.

The man that qualifies for this position must be: aggressive, steady, sober, willing to work hard and with the desire to make big money. Others need not apply. This is a salary plus commission basis. References for the past 5 years must be furnished.

Three Boys Held In Series Of Shopliftings

Admit Taking Goods From Stores In Five Communities

Three teen-age boys from the western part of Marion County are under investigation by the Marion County sheriff's office today after they admitted a series of shopliftings in Marion, LaRue, Richwood, New Bloomington, and West Jackson.

The boys, two aged 15 and one aged 13, were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Elmer Ullom during an investigation of the theft of fishing tackle valued at about $100 from a LaRue store.

The investigation disclosed they had nothing to do with the tackle theft, but resulted in their confession of the series of shopliftings, Ullom said.

Business Places Hit

The deputy sheriff said they admitted taking merchandise valued at more than $150 from the following stores:

Bailey Hardware in LaRue, Cook's Store in LaRue, Handy Hardware in LaRue, a store in West Jackson, McMahon's Restaurant in LaRue, David Hughes Hardware in Richwood, Moore's Store in Richwood, Farm Bureau store at LaRue, Lingo's Department store at LaRue, Paul Blue's Service Station at LaRue, Sohio Service Station in LaRue, LaRue Locker plant, the Dennis Pharmacy in LaRue, Alber's Supermarket in Marion, Pop Wylie's Service Station in Marion, and Mosier Hardware in New Bloomington.

Merchandise Taken

The boys admitted the theft of items ranging from socks and gloves to a .22 caliber target pistol. They also admitted taking food, candy, soft drinks, cigars, cigarets, hats, ice cream, shells for the pistol, jelly, groceries, and many other small items, Ullom said.

The boys said they hitchhiked from place to place and either sold or consumed the merchandise taken.

They have been released in the custody of their parents. Charges will be filed in Juvenile Court, Ullom said.

Ullom said he has been able to contact only a few of the business places, but for the most part, the owners did not realize they had been theft victims.

Ullom said the tackle box, which touched off the whole investigation, has not been recovered as yet.

Ullom said the investigation will be continued.

Drive For Ike On In Penna.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Republican backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower whooped up today a final "Get out the Ike vote" drive for Tuesday's Pennsylvania primary election.

In stark contrast, since the balloting will help choose most of the members of the third largest delegation to the GOP national convention, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, asked specifically that voters not ballot for him. They could, by writing in his name.

And on the Democratic side of the election, no concerted effort of any kind was being made to obtain write-in votes for any of the party's possible nominees.

The primary, under Pennsylvania law, offers voters an opportunity to voluntarily express their preference for presidential candidates. But the result is not binding in any way on the convention delegates.

Sen. Taft, in his statement in Washington, called attention to this. He said he did not enter his name in Pennsylvania "because that primary has never had the slightest influence on the delegates selected from Pennsylvania."

KILLED NEAR WAPAKONETA

WAPAKONETA, O. (AP) — John H. Goetz, 37, of Wapakoneta was killed Thursday night when his auto failed to make a turn and crashed into the bank of Pusheta Creek on Route 33.

DOG NOT TO BLAME

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP)—Lawrence Case blamed a dog running loose in his car for his weaving driving. A jury was unimpressed with his odd explanation and found him guilty of drunken driving.

TWINS REALLY IDENTICAL

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I. (UP) —Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin gave birth to twin daughters whose measurements were identical. Each girl weighed 4 pounds 13 ounces at birth, each was 17 inches in length and each had a headsize of 11½ inches.

Flood

splashed against the splashboards built to hold back the top few inches of the river's crest.

Some 300 workers were concentrated during the night at a danger point in the levee guarding the municipal airport on the Omaha side of the river.

The airport—which was under seven feet of water in the 1943 flood—is not in use and commercial flights are operating from the Air Force's Offutt Air Base field.

Form Human Chain

The workers formed a 700-foot human chain from the edge of the northeastern runway, passing sandbags across the sodden lowlands to build a secondary levee. This dike was being built around a ten-acre area into which water was seeping from the main dike.

Water oozed through soggy levees and through spongy earth beneath them as danger signals. Levee patrols sent workers into these points as quickly as they were spotted.

The nerve centers in the fight were command posts set up by U. S. engineers under the immediate direction of Brig. Gen. Don G. Shingler, Missouri River division engineer. By telephone and radio, the command posts kept in touch with workers and relayed reports to headquarters where every flood-fighting move was charted on maps.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of the U. S. Army Engineers, told reporters he believed the levees here would hold.

"If we can control the sandboil areas, he said, "we'll win the fight."

"Sandboils" are caused by the river pressure forcing water through sandy strata beneath the dikes. If uncontrolled, these sandboils could develop into tunnels through which the water would pour in a torrent that would collapse the dike.

They are controlled by ringing them with sandbags. The water rises inside the sandbag ring and equalizes somewhat the river pressure on the other side of the dike. The overflow from the sandboils is pumped back into the river.

Reaches to Kansas City

But while the main drama was being staged on the Omaha waterfront, the flood waters surged out of control downstream almost as far as Kansas City. Thousands of acres of rich farmland, highways, railroads, bridges, and homes were inundated in the creeping brown tide.

The Missouri flood was born on the plains of the Dakotas when heavy snows melted quickly under warm winds. The water ran off across an underlayer of ice. Ice floes in the river melted. And the rampage was on.

U. S. engineers warned farmers to quit the lowlands below Omaha. Farmers were moving livestock and equipment. Families were abandoning their homes and carting their belongings to safe areas—just as some 39,000 people have done in the Omaha and Council Bluffs area.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Ohio: Temperatures will average about six degrees above normal; normal high 59 north, 67 south; normal low 39 north, 43 south; warm over the weekend, somewhat cooler north portion Monday or Tuesday and south portion Tuesday or Wednesday; chance of scattered showers north portion Monday and south portion Tuesday averaging less than one-tenth inch.

SHORT CIRCUIT BLAMED

TOKYO (AP) — Police today blamed Tottori's disastrous $41,600,000 fire on a short circuit caused by illegal tapping of electric wires. They jailed three suspects. The 12-hour fire left 25,000 homeless and injured 120 persons, but on one was killed. An estimated 5,000 homes were destroyed.

Food Cans Scattered In Truck Crash

Tire Blows Out As Rig Crosses Bridge; Driver Uninjured

A tractor and semi-trailer outfit was extensively damaged Thursday when a trailer tire blew out when the truck was crossing a bridge on route 95, two miles east of Mt. Gilead, at 12:45 p. m. The vehicle, loaded with canned food, struck the side of the bridge and then a guard rail at the end of the bridge.

The cans of food were scattered over the road and one-lane traffic was maintained in the area for six hours while the scattered cans were picked up and loaded onto another truck.

The driver, Roy J. Walcott, 24, of Arlington, Calif., was not injured. The truck was owned by the Loma Linda Food Co. of Arlington.

Another accident and six arrests Thursday were also reported by the patrol.

A truck turned over on the berm on Route 98, about half a mile south of Route 30-S, at 10:20 a. m. after the driver, Ralph L. Mead, 54, of Bucyrus, lost control while passing another truck. The truck was considerably damaged. Mead was not injured.

Lester H. Podalsky, 20, of Winnetka, Ill., was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a speeding charge before L. C. Schoenberger, justice of peace in Upper Sandusky. He was arrested on Route 30-N at 8:15 p. m.

Charged With Passing Bus

Lowell E. Adams, 18, of Bucyrus was charged with passing a stopped school bus on Route 30-N at 3:40 p. m. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Nelson Lee of Crestline.

Malcolm E. Milligan, 37, of Canton was arrested on a charge of speeding on Route 42 at 10 p. m. He was fined $10 and costs by R. R. Bennington, justice of the peace in Mt. Gilead, upon entering a plea of guilty.

Adam J. Thomas, 35, of Stanfield, N. C., posted bond for appearance in Marion Municipal Court. He was arrested at 10:25 p. m. on Route 23 on a charge of passing at the crest of a hill.

John A. Roberts, 22, of Waldo was cited to appear in Municipal court today following his arrest on a charge of speeding on Route 23 at 2:40 a. m.

FIGHTS INGRID MOVE. Dr. Peter Lindstrom is shown in Superior Court, Los Angeles, where he presented letter of his former wife, Ingrid Bergman, to block her petition to have their daughter with her in Italy this summer. The letter was the one in which she informed him of her love for Italian film director Roberto Rossellini, to whom she now is married. "I thought maybe I could conquer the feeling," the letter ran.

SAVED BY ILL HEALTH. Ill health is credited with saving Dr. Sidney Lange, Cincinnati X-ray specialist, from prison on plea of guilty to evading income taxes on $8,518,250 he hoarded in seven safety deposit boxes. Tax totalled $3,429,876.21. Dr. Lange, shown in court, drew a suspended five-year sentence, $50,000 fine. Investigation went to 1920.

Mislaid Old Bible Recovered by College

CARTHAGE, Ill. (UP)—An ancient and valuable Bible, lost for 29 years, was found during a spring house-cleaning at Carthage College.

The Bible, printed in 1734, was presented to the school in 1923 by J. D. Cheney of Mendon, Ill., and bears record of the Cheney family dated as early as 1750. It was placed apparently in a wall safe in the college business office and overlooked until the cleanup.

Officials said the volume, though yellowed and thumbworn, was still easily readable.

NEAR MISS, THEN HIT

WAUKESHA, Wiss. (UP)—Arthur Healey, 64, swerved his car to avoid a crash with another and succeeded. He got out to survey the scene of the near miss, slipped on the ice, was run over by a passing truck and suffered a broken leg.

Convention Set Sunday

Marion Man Candidate For District Lions Post

Robert Scott, secretary of the Marion Lions Club, will be presented as a candidate for junior deputy district governor at the annual convention of District 13-E of the Ohio Association of Lions Clubs to be held in Marion this week end. The election will be held during a business session Sunday afternoon at Hotel Harding, convention headquarters.

This year marks the first time that delegates to the district convention will elect the junior deputy district governor. In the past, the candidate was endorsed by the district convention and elected at the state convention held later in the spring. By vote of delegates at last year's state convention, it was decided that the office would be filled at each district convention.

Secretary Since 1945

Scott has been secretary of the Marion Lions Club and editor of the club bulletin since 1945. He has been a member of the group for eight years and served as zone chairman for the district last year. Director of personnel and safety at Commercial Steel Casting Co., he is a member and past chairman of two Chamber of Commerce committees, the Industrial Safety Council and the Personnel Council. He is also serving as president of the Marion Little League Baseball Commission.

Preceding the business session Sunday to be conducted by District Governor Elmer Tankersley of Sandusky, Lions and their wives will attend memorial service in memory of nine Lions of the district who died during the past year. The service will be conducted at 2 p.m. by Cecil Gabler, a past president of the Marion Lions Club and past deputy district governor.

Harding Choir To Sing

Music before and during the ceremony will be provided by the 70-voice A Cappella choir of Harding High School, directed by L. G. Jones.

When the convention delegates adjourn to their business meeting after the memorial service, their wives will be guests of the Marion Lionesses Club for entertainment and refreshments in the Marion Club of Hotel Harding. B. R. Hurst will demonstrate flower arranging for the group.

More than 300 Lions and wives have registered to attend the two-day convention in Marion. They will represent the 36 Lions Clubs in District 13-F. Charlton Myers is in charge of arrangements.

The convention will open Saturday with a reception at 8 p.m. and a dance at 9 p.m. at the Marion Country Club. Delegates may register at the Country Club, or during the afternoon and evening at Hotel Harding. The closing function will be a banquet at 6 p.m. Sunday in Moira Hall of St. Mary Catholic Church. Speaker will be Claris E. Adams, president of the Ohio State Life Insurance Co. of Columbus.

spite the fact that his Republican tee off on him because of his support of the Yalta agreements. GOP partisans insist these agreements gave Russia a vital foothold in China.

In the face of what some have interpreted as a new Moscow "peace offensive," Harriman insisted that "the Kremlin is wavering," adding:

"If the (GOP) voices of hesitation prevail, they will undermine what we have built and destroy the leadership of the United States."

This was a good Democratic doctrine, but the faithful came to hear a new post-Truman political messiah and seemed not to find him.

The upshot was talk — though mostly in whispers that the president could be drafted to run again, even though he says he won't respond to such a move. As some Democrats put it, "why don't we just nominate him and then see what happens"

Kefauver, the top man in the number of delegates pledged thus far and winner in five primaries, seemed somewhat unimpressive in a speech he read haltingly.

"GIANT" BROTHERS LEAVE ARMY. Three "Giants," the Frame brothers, are released together from Armored Combat Training center, Camp Irwin, near Barstow, Cal., after 19 months of their two-year hitches. From left: Pfc. Grant, 18, six-feet-three; Cpl. Douglas, 23, six-feet-seven; Cpl. Boyd, 21, six-feet-five. They were released after 19 months due to change in regulations. Asked what they planned to do, they replied, "Why, we'll just continue to drive trucks, of course."

Ex-Secretary of State Blasts Book

Byrnes Rips Truman, Says President Spread Falsehoods About Him

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) James F Byrnes today accused President Truman of spreading falsehood about him and of substituting fiction for history in describing U S Russian relations in the dangerous months of the developing Cold War

The South Carolina governor who was Trumans Secretary of State from 1945 until early 1947 replied in a scathing article published in Colliers Magazine to statements Truman made about him in the recent book Mr President

Byrnes cut beyond denying as he has done before that he got a personal dressing down from Truman after the Moscow conference of 1945 By Truman account the President read Byrnes a memo saying he was tired of playing the Soviets Byrnes said he never heard of any such memo and then

▶ He charged that Truman was quick to use strong language against the Russians but he did not provide the iron fist to back up his words

▶ He said the Soviets will welcome Trumans statement that his country is most bored to right at the Potsdam Conference right after it must be one of the Odder Races

▶ He denied that Dr U S was eager at Potsdam to get Russia into the war against Japan Byrnes said he hoped the Japanese would set under before Russia could enter the war Truman, he said led me to believe he shared my views

▶ Byrnes denied quitting as secretary of state because of any scrape with the President He said he resigned only because he was offered with a without alimony And he said that for at least seven years after his resignation he and Truman remained on cordial terms

In addition to the Colliers article Byrnes made public a detailed record of his first conversation describing his secretary as and three letters from Truman to Byrnes designed to show that the breach between them did not come until Byrnes opened fire on Trumans domestic policies in 1949

Says Evidence Plain

The evidence seems plain" to all the Soviets Byrnes

ARGUMENT WAS FRIENDLY THEN President Truman and his then secretary of state James F Byrnes (right) gesticulated in a friendly argument under a tree in the garden of the Little White House at Potsdam Germany This scene took place during the Big Three conference in September of 1946 Byrnes in an article in Colliers Magazine made a blistering attack on President Truman accusing him of writing history to suit himself and of playing into Russian hands with a wrong statement about the Polish-German boundary

Byrnes said "that he became offended with me not because of anything I did or did not do while secretary of state but because of opposed some of his domestic program

He appears determined to construct a record against me without regard for the facts But not even the President of the United States has the right to substitute fiction for history

I saw them (in 1949) and still see a dangerous movement toward a socialized existence for all Americans

"Americans should place loyalty to country above loyalty to any political party or any political candidate Mr Truman cannot understand that

Time after time Byrnes once a close friend and Senate colleague of Truman flatly denies statements made by Truman in Mr President or attributed to him in an earlier book Jonathan Daniels The Man of Independence

These statements added up to an impression that Byrnes in Trumans view wasn't being firm enough with the Russians and wasn't keeping the President informed on diplomatic developments

Daniels for instance quotes Truman as saying that Byrnes lost his nerve in Moscow and that Byrnes got the real hot act after Moscow

Then in "Mr President" Truman himself says he personally protested to Byrnes at first being kept in the dark about Moscow developments The President also says he told Byrnes Unless Russia is faced with firm not fist and strong language another war is in the making"

Byrnes Answer

Byrnes commented tartly in the Colliers article

Two and a half years after he claimed he was tired of bribing the Soviets Mr Truman on June 11 1948 at Urgent One declared his affection for Stalin saying "I like old Joe He is a decent fellow but he is a prisoner of the politburo"

Actually Byrnes said he himself adopted a policy of firmness and patience toward the Soviets months before Truman was ready for such a step

Moreover he said he did keep Truman informed of developments at the Moscow conference

As to communications permitted And he said Truman often praised his work then and later in the presence of others

The Truman letters produced by Byrnes show the President asked him after he left the cabinet post to deliver a good hard-boiled foreign relations speech at Westminster College Fulton Mo where Winston Churchill made his famous Iron Curtain address in 1946

Byrnes said he didn't make the speech for fear it might affect the second Moscow conference then in progress He also produced a letter from Truman saying the President fully understood his reasons

The Byrnes-Truman bustup by Byrnes account, began in a "Dear Jim" letter the President wrote him after Byrnes criticism of the "fair deal" domestic program in a speech at Washington and Lee University in Virginia in 1949

Truman Letter

In this letter Truman referred to several newspaper columnists as he's something he's done many times and added in a hand-written postscript

Since you Washington & Lee speech I'm sure I know how Caesar felt when he said Et tu Brute"

(Julius Caesar is supposed to have made the exclamation "And you too Brutus" when he discovered his old friend Brutus had joined in an assassination plot against him)

Byrnes said he wrote the President that the implication is not pleasant and not justified He says his letter to Truman ended

I hope you are not going to think of me as a Brutus because I am no Brutus

I hope you are not going to think of yourself as a Caesar, because you are no Caesar

With best wishes for your health and happiness I am

Sincerely yours
James F Byrnes"

Byrnes said he hasn't had any direct word from Truman since then

Tag Day Fund Drive Set For Music Groups

Harding High School Band and Orchestra Parents Association made final plans for Tag Day when the group met Monday night at the school. Tag Day is an annual two-day drive for funds to finance needs of the band and orchestra.

Members of the association and of the band will collect donations in the downtown area Friday and Saturday, April 25 and 26. The drive will begin with a parade by the band on April 25.

The association voted to finance the trip the orchestra will make to Springfield April 26 to enter the state finals. Plans were made for a bake sale to be sponsored by women of the association. Proceeds will be used for the annual band picnic.

Marion Student To Give Recital

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Rehl of the Richland pike, Rehl will receive his bachelor of music degree in June with a major in piano. He is a member of the conservatory orchestra and is president of the conservatory student board.

SHE'S REALLY GETTING ACQUAINTED. Queen Juliana looks as excited as a regular American baseball fan as she waves at opener in Detroit, where the home town Tigers lost 3-0 to St. Louis Browns. At right, leaning, is The Netherlands monarch's consort, Prince Bernhard.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Stark amazement flared into Marion's eyes at my warning.

"But, Auntie Madge," she said, "I always have told Mummy everything. I should feel like a heel if I kept anything from her."

I knew that I had my work cut out for me. I also knew that it was a job that had to be done, and I braced myself for it. I took my hands from her shoulders (I was still holding them), walked back to my own chair, sat down in it, and leaned back against the cushions.

"Relax!" I said, "and listen to me. I would rather take a brutal beating than say the things to you which I must say, but, if you value your future happiness with Ronald, you must listen to me—and believe me."

Her face was ashen now, instead of rosy, and I knew that I had infected her with my own fear. My heart almost failed me, for I knew what a precarious thing I was doing, undermining a girl's faith in her mother, but I also knew that it was a necessity if the marriage of Ronald and Marion were to be accomplished, and their happiness assured.

"Your mother, Marion," I said, 'loves you more than she does anything or anyone on earth. You always must remember that, even if things come up which make you doubt her."

Her head shot upward at that, and her eyes flashed.

"Doubt her?" she said. "Doubt Mummy" I never could do that I—I don't understand you, Auntie Madge, talking that way."

"I am afraid you will, later on," I said, "But first, let me tell you another thing which you must remember. Whatever your mother says, whatever she does, remember that she believes she is saying or doing it for your good."

"Please," she spoke imperatively, "tell me what you mean, what is back of all this. I know that all these things you are saying about Mummy are true. There must be something else."

"There is," I told her. "Marion, your mother, has an obsession—I can't call it anything else—about your marriage. She is determined that you shall not marry Ronald."

She crumpled against the chair cushions, and I saw her hands twisting in agony.

"Oh! Oh, no, please!" she wailed. "I know what she has tried to make me see that it was unwise, but after I told her how determined I was, she seemed to change. She said that, after all, I knew my own heart best, and that she would offer no more objections. But—I have had the queerest feeling somehow about her ever since. I've hated myself for thinking it, but it seemed sometimes as if she were acting a role, just like an actress in a theater. Oh, Aunt Madge, you must be wrong. It can't be true. Say it isn't true."

"I wish I could, darling, but I can't. You must remember this, however. Your mother's feeling is really like a mental illness. She cannot help it, and I am afraid it isn't going to be eradicated until after you and Ronald are safely married so she cannot do anything about it."

She looked at me with horror in her eyes.

"You mean, marry Ronald without Mummy's knowledge?" she gasped.

Candidate Visits City

Herbert G. Hahn of Quincy, in Logan County, candidate for the Republican nomination as state senator from the 13th-31st District, visited Marion Thursday.

He is one of three candidates for the office.

Hahn is a disabled veteran of World War I, a former member of Co. L, 166th Ohio Infantry. During World War II he served on Franklin and Logan County selective service boards.

He served as mayor of Quincy from 1948 until 1952.

Thinks Ohio Has Too Many Colleges

ATHENS (AP) — Does Ohio have too many colleges?

Joseph B. Hall, president of the Kroger Co., thinks that might be the case.

Further, he thinks many of them might profitably merge with larger institutions.

Hall, an Ohio University trustee, spoke to representatives of 26 Ohio colleges and universities who attended the 35th annual meeting of the Ohio Association of Colleges and University Business Officers here Tuesday and Wednesday.

The grocery executive questioned whether institutions of higher learning in Ohio—now numbering 69—"might be competing unnecessarily with each other."

He said smaller private and endowed institutions which prove their worth will continue to succeed, but that "many would profit by consolidating with larger institutions just as the little red school house has consolidated to give public school students more advantages."

Norman Thomas Expresses Views On World Peace

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Norman Thomas said today the U.S. can march toward peace and defeat communism without World War III by enforcing universal disarmament and wiping out world poverty.

Thomas, a frequent though unsuccessful candidate for president on the Socialist Party ticket, told the opening session of the 56th annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science that America's interests "can only be served with others." But he added:

"It doesn't follow that internationalism or world government, unqualified and undefined, is today the logical road to peace."

Nearly 500 delegates from all parts of the world, representing nations, states, international, civic, scientific and commercial organizations, and universities, are here for the two-day meeting which has the theme, "The National Interest—Alone or With Others?"

The sugar content of the sap of maple trees is from 2 to 7 per cent.

Was Too Dramatic, Says Actor Jailed For Duel Challenge

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Amateur actor Carl O'Brien, in jail for challenging three ex-associates to a duel, says now, "I've been too dramatic."

The 22-year-old unemployed shoe salesman was kicked out of a theatrical group two months ago for "hamming up rehearsals."

Brooding, O'Brien decided he had been "unforgivably insulted." He wrote a letter challenging William Fogle, Milton Stephenson and Harold Person, leaders of the Pontiac Master Players, to "meet me in honorable combat so that my honor may be cleansed."

He suggested as weapons, "sabers or knives, your choice, pistols if you are prepared to furnish them. I do not intend to murder you, only to maim or cripple."

But his three intended targets declined the challenge and looked up the law. That's why O'Brien, unable to furnish $10,000 bond at his arraignment Wednesday, is awaiting examination April 22. He is charged with violating an 1816 statute against "challenging to fight a duel."

The law hasn't been invoked in Michigan since the turn of the century. It provides maximum penalties of 10 years in prison and $5,000 fine.

"I didn't know about it," said O'Brien.

PYTHIAN SISTERS MEET

Plans for a card party to be held April 25 were made when White Lily Temple 273, Pythian Sisters, met recently in the Knights of Pythias Hall in Waldo. The party will be held in the hall at 8 p.m. and will be open to the public. Mrs. Martha McFarland and Mrs. Maxine Saxton are in charge of arrangements, and the refreshment committee includes Mrs. Hazel Shuster, Mrs. Dorothy Dutt and Mrs. Emma Edwards. Plans were made to clean the hall April 23 starting at 10 a.m. Following the meeting, the degree staff practiced for the annual inspection to be held May 22. Mrs. Hazel Klingel, degree staff captain, was in charge.

TO ATTEND MEDICAL EVENT

Dr. Glen Burton Jr. of 327 S. Main St. will attend the Ohio Valley Vision Congress in Cincinnati April 20, 21 and 22. The program, to be held at the Hotel Sheraton-Gibson, will include lectures and a workshop on visual training.

Prison

Hannum was called to the prison Thursday by the request of the convicts.

The barricaded Trenton inmates last night released one of their four hostages, who suffered a mild heart attack. They lowered prison employe Otis Robison from a six-foot high window into the arms of three waiting guards.

Condition Not Serious

Robison, not in serious condition, was not permitted to make any statements. He had been held for more than 60 hours.

Guards reported Thursday night that a microphone eavesdropping system had been set up through a loft in the print shop and prison officials had been listening in on everything the prisoners say.

The convicts argued for almost five hours before agreeing to release Robison, the guards reported.

They said the convict group is armed with broken blades from a paper cutting machine.

August Doak, serving a life term for kidnaping, and William Dickens, 38-year-old robber, who have been spokesmen for the group, threatened to kill any prisoners who want to give up, the guards added.

The convicts also are reported almost out of food and water. Bixby said Robinson revealed that the convicts had divided among everyone the eight sandwiches which have been sent in for the hostages at each mealtime.

Truman

give the nation everything I had in me. There are a great many people that, probably a million people, who could have done the job better than I did it but I had the job and I had to do it and I always quote an epitaph on a tombstone in a cemetery in Thombstone, Ariz.:

"Here lies Jack Williams. He done his damnedest."

"I think that is the greatest epitaph a man can have."

(The President departed from custom by permitting the above to be quoted directly).

2. If the Russians really want peace, they would sign an Austrian peace treaty and agree to the U. S. plan for limitation of armaments.

3. The great mid-west floods could have been prevented if the Pick-Sloan flood control plan for the area had been put into effect. Truman said governors of the flooded states had been dragging their feet for 25 years.

4. He laughingly knocked down a rumor he might teach history at the University of North Carolina after he retires. He said as an ex-President he would be glad to give the country the benefit of his experience, as ex-President Hoover has done.

Other comments ranged from a suggestion by the Daughters of the American Revolution to check on the gold stored at Fort Knox (Truman said he'd be glad to let them have a pass so they could do it themselves) to why editors as a whole are so bad at picking presidential winners (they don't know anything about politics, Truman said.)

PROSPECT CLINIC SET

Kidnaping

to the father's office in downtown Miami.

The caller told Daniel Richter he had Ricky in his custody and that no harm would come to the child if the father cooperated.

"Business Deal"

"He said, 'this is purely a business deal and will require $50,000 in diamonds and $5,000 in cash for you to get your boy back.'" Richter reported.

The caller warned Richter the boy's life would be in danger if police were notified, and gave him five minutes to verify the story.

Richter quickly called the school, learned his son was gone, then decided to notify police. While detectives M. H. Wiggins and E. A. Taunton were enroute to Richter's jewelry store, his phone rang again.

"He gave me instructions to take the jewels and money to a phone booth in the Ponce De Leon Hotel," Richter related. "I told him the most I could raise was about $15,000 in jewels and $200 in cash. He said that would do."

Richter went to the hotel and waited in the booth. A bellboy told him he was wanted on the phone at the desk and the same man who had called earlier told him to put the jewels and cash in a bag in a coin locker at the Greyhound bus station, place the key with a wad of chewing gum under the counter of a certain telephone booth, and leave.

Richter was still a step ahead of detectives, who were being briefed at the store by his brother, Alvin Richter.

The father rushed to the bus station, placed the bag in a locker, and since the designated phone booth was being used, placed the key in another booth.

Watch Wrong Booth

Detectives reached the bus station as Richter left. While one watched the originally-designated booth, the other went back to the store to find the father.

Apparently while the detectives watched one phone booth, one of the extortionists slipped into the other, around a corner, and took the key.

When police reinforcements arrived, the key was gone, the locker was open and the key was in it, still sticky with chewing gum.

About the time Richter returned to his store, a puzzled doctor at the hospital called and asked if he had a son, Ricky. The boy was at the hospital and the cab driver was waiting for his fare.

Richter said the whole sequence of events took about an hour.

716,000 Back In Civvies Since Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration estimated today that 716,000 members of the armed services have returned to civilian life since the outbreak of the Korean war.

It noted, too, that "more and more veterans disabled since the beginning of the Korean conflict" are turning to the VA for medical care and other disability benefits.

Eventually, the agency noted, the number of veterans of the post-Korea period—the war began June 25, 1950—are "likely to equal if not to exceed" the 4,764,000 who came out of World War I.

At the end of February, 1952, VA said, there were in civilian life an overall total of 19,179,000 former servicemen.

THE WORKS OF CHRIST

And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man kneeling down to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is a lunatick, and sore vexed for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to Me.

And Jesus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him; and the child was cured from that very hour.

A special program has been planned for the final meeting of the school year of the Vernon Heights Junior High School PTA, to be held Monday night.

The program, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium, will include devotions by Dr. Henry Schaeffer and music by the Vernon Band and Orchestra under the direction of Homer Huffman. Karl Ailing, speech and hearing therapist in the Marion city schools, will speak on the therapy program.

Officers for the coming year will be elected. Mrs. Donald Weston is in charge of the social hour.

Attend District Meeting Of Real Estate Boards

Nine members of the Marion Real Estate Board attended a conference of District 3, Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, Wednesday in Mansfield. Sessions were held in the Mansfield-Leland Hotel and William C. Laser, vice president of the district, presided.

Walter E. Larimore, president of the Mansfield Board, welcomed the group, and talks on subjects pertaining to the sale of real estate were given by various real estate men.

Attending from Marion were Joe Davis, president of the Marion Board, Clark Metz, Alonzo Granger, Wilson Jones, Harold Cook, James Kirby, Joe Sansotta, Mrs. Nellie McCleary and Mrs. Bernice Thompson.

Britons' Square Dancing Craze Cheers Shoe Men

LONDON (AP) — Britain is in the grip of a square dancing craze and the shoe manufacturers couldn't be happier.

The eagerness to swing your partner spread rapidly after the visit of Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh to Canada and the U. S. last year and they were pictured joining the fun at a country dance.

Shoe and Leather Record, a trade paper, reported some manufacturers are working overtime to meet the demand for special dance shoes, adding: "Let us thank our American cousins for sending us something which so far as the shoe trade's immediate needs are concerned could not have come at a more opportune moment."

Savings in 1951 Hit 13 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—American people saved 13 billion dollars last year, a sharp increase from savings of only 11½ billion in 1950, the Securities and Exchange commission reports.

That was the biggest yearly increase since the early stages of World War II in 1942, and the highest annual level of savings since the wartime year of 1945.

It amounts to about $84 for every man, woman and child in the country—or $325 per family.

Fined $50,000 For Income Tax Evasion

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dr. Sidney Lange, prominent X-ray specialist here, was given a five-year suspended sentence and fined $50,000 Thursday when he pleaded guilty to making false and fraudulent income tax returns.

"Your systematic and continuous violations of the income tax laws certainly cause you to deserve a prison sentence, but I must consider the testimony of the physicians, who have told of your present physical condition, and a prison sentence would be the same as a death sentence," U. S. District Court Judge John H. Druffel said.

St. Louis Browns Make Early Noise In American League

Brownies Belt Detroit For Third Straight Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's only one place to find out what hat's first."

Roger Hornsby made this sage comment before the season opened. His precocious St. Louis Browns act like he meant it. Running neck and neck with Cleveland for the American League lead, they surely look like the last noise of early season.

If the Browns keep winning when they get home Owner Bill Veeck can forget any more free beer nights for customers. The long-suffering Brownie fans float in a purple haze of contentment after three straight wins.

If Cleveland and Brooklyn the pace-setting favorite to terrify the opposition with 17-hit binges. The gutsy little Brownies, in five hits, do the same work.

But Ned Garver. Then Tommy Byrne. And now Bob Cain, getting the route against Detroit for a club that got only one complete game in three from 13 pitchers last season.

Cain, acquired from Detroit in a seven-man deal during spring training, rubbed it in Thursday by whipping his old Tiger mates 3-1. Wandering Bob allowed nine hits but most of them were harmless singles.

Blast Newhouser

That new Brownie lineup with only one third of the players on hand still on hand — the Hal Newhouser comeback bright comeback hopes. Prince Hal, making his first appearance since July 15 threw home run ball to Ed Mickelson and Bob Nieman in the last two innings that sank the Tigers.

Cleveland walloped many of its 17 hits in running over Chicago for a third straight triumph, 5-3. Despite the heavy bat age that included a 425-foot homer by Luke Easter in the fifth, the Tribe gave Mike Garcia only a one-run lead going to the ninth.

Bobby Shantz, smallest pitcher in the league, beat the world champion New York Yankees with his left arm and bit to give Philadelphia a 3-1 decision over Eddie Lopat. The five-foot-six pitcher scattered nine hits and gave his team the lead run with a single in the fourth breaking a 1-1 tie.

The Boston Rookie Sox turned the heat on Washington for a 9-2 romp with Freshman Dave Hoskins hitting a bases-loaded home run off Bob Johnson in the sixth. Throneberry just advanced to the Sox roster before opening day smashed a two-strike no ball pitch into the Senators bullpen in centerfield.

Dodgers Win Third

Brooklyn continued to pound the ball as though Manager Chuck Dressen expected to open up his 11 game lead by Decoration Day. In three runs at Boston the Dodgers hammered 18 hits for a team batting average of .386. Thursday Brooklyn won 8-2.

Connie Ryan, an ex-Giant slugger, hit a two-run homer in the 11th inning to give the New Philadelphia Phils a 5-3 victory over the New York Giants. Del Ennis' spectacular bare-handed catch of Willie Mays' screamer and Pitcher Jim Konstanty in the 10th.

St. Louis was dumped from the unbeaten class by Pittsburgh's rocket-studded Pirates 5-3. Three Cubs' Errors and Peanuts Lowrey's timely hit turned a promising rally behind Cubs Joe Muir, register his first big league win. Ralph Kiner had three of the six Pirate hits as they snapped the loss on Rookie Dick Littlefield. Eddie Yuhas, Pitcher Litter Lowrey fell down on the base line to break up a first inning double play. Two runs in the Cubs' half of the first which they collected four hits but only two runs in the second.

Today is the second opening day of the season with all clubs in action. Weather permitting, the clubs who were on the road Tuesday show their stuff before the home fans.

Truman's Choice Wins Presidential Stakes Handily

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Like some polls of the past Laurel's Gallup Poll was wrong.

Truman's Choice ran away with the Presidential Stakes at Laurel Race Track Thursday, six lengths ahead of Like Ike and Taft Nos. 1 and 2 in the "primary" voting.

The charity race in which stable ponies ran with regular jockeys aboard was a gimmick contest staged for benefit of the United Cerebral Palsy Fund. A contribution bought a vote and the results determined post positions.

A crowd of 11,229 who couldn't bet on the charity run, but did plenty of rooting watched Jockey Ronnie Nash spur Truman's Choice home in 24.1 seconds, not bad time for a stable pony in the quarter mile sprint.

It got him an oversized key to the White House, a cake moulded like the nation's Capitol and a big kiss from Actress Denise Darcel.

Stretched out behind Truman's Choice were Sen. Kefauver, Gov. McKeldin—Maryland's own favorite son candidate said to have his eye on the Republican vice presidency—Taft, I Like Ike, Gov. Warren, Dark Horse Sen. Kerr, Stassen and Sen. Russell.

Rolls 738 Series In ABC Tourney

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Albert (Al) Sharkey, a Chicago beauty supply salesman, slammed the most sensational series in the current American Bowling Congress tournament Thursday. He rolled to within 17 sticks of the all-time tourney mark in vaulting into first place in the singles all events.

The 47-year-old ace rolled 738 in singles and powered 1934 in all-events. The record high in any event is 775 fired last year at St. Paul by Lee Jouglard of Detroit in singles.

Radiant Corp. Cleveland took second team honors for the night with 2914. Steve Nagy hit 672 and Charles Lausche, brother of Ohio's governor 585. It was not good enough for a place in the tournament's top 10, however.

Annual Relays Open Today At Mansfield

MANSFIELD (AP) — The 21st Mansfield Relays timed test for schoolboy cinder talent gets under way today.

Only the four-mile relay with 12 teams entered is on the Friday slate — but 17 other events pop up Saturday as Cleveland East Tech defends the Laurel it won a year ago.

The Cleveland crew is a solid favorite to win again as it matches strides with entrants from three states. The annual classic, founded more than two decades ago by Harry Mehock, had an entry list of 69 schools and 899 boys today.

Cleveland Rhodes had the biggest entry with 43 individuals but Cincinnati Centrals, defending state champs were in with an even dozen. Among the out-of-state powerhouses were Scottdale, Mt. Lebanon and Erie Academy of Pennsylvania and Portage and Detroit St. Joseph of Michigan. The latter school is sending a team of 35. Mt. Lebanon won the recent Tri State indoor meet.

Mansfield's hosts, victors in last week's Springfield Relays, were favored to finish on East Tech's heels with Mt. Lebanon third as the scholastic stars tuned up for the big Ohio championship at Columbus May 23-24.

At least two Ohio champion individuals will be on display. Harry Hunt, Cincinnati Vocationals dash star who won the century in :09.8 and the 220 in :21.8 in last year's state finals will appear in his specialties. He was beaten in both here a year ago, but won both Saturday at Springfield.

The other state title-holder is Don Bartek of Solon, Class B champion at a half mile. Mt. Lebanon is featuring Bob Cherry, the Pennsylvania mile and cross-country king.

Much interest centers around Tempest Lowry of Shaker Heights who has an indoor 51.9 quarter mile to his credit this year.

Wall Street in New York City got its name because Peter Stuyvesant, early Dutch governor, had a wall built there to protect the city against expected raids by the English.

Indians Sweep Series

Feller Goes To Mound In Tribe's Home Opener

CLEVELAND (AP) — Baseball lovers enjoy the melodies of La Boheme at Municipal Auditorium today. A few blocks away at Municipal Stadium, the music's a little noisier.

It's Take Me Out To The Ball Game for some 55,000 hot dog munching supporters of the Cleveland Indians in the home opener against Detroit.

High on the baseball bill is Bob Feller, the mightiest Tribesman of them all, opposing Ted Gray of Cleveland's traditional rivals. Then, too, the weatherman promises fair skies and a high of 72 degrees.

Feller won 22 and lost 8 last year and had a 3.49 earned run average. He whipped the Tigers four times in four trys. Veteran Gray dropped three decisions to Cleveland. The Tribe finished with a 17-5 edge over the Tigers.

This is Feller's first outing of the season.

The Indians swept their three-game opening series with the Chicago White Sox 5-3 Thursday with a 17-hit barrage off five pitchers.

Easter Homers

Luke Easter poled the most sensational clout — a 425-foot blast in the fifth for his first homer of the season. Bob Avila hit three times in four chances.

Cleveland had its big inning in the second. Dale Mitchell singled and stole second. Boone Mike Garcia Harry Simpson and Avila followed with singles for three runs. Easter flied out to retire the side.

The Chicagoans scored two of their three runs in the seventh on two of Cleveland's three errors. Boone bobbled Chico Carrasquel's grounder after Hector Rodriguez walked. Then Avila fumbled Minnie Minoso's bounder, and Rodriguez and Carrasquel ran home.

Garcia permitted only seven hits, fanned six and walked two.

Jim Fridley, the rookie outfielder whose first big league homer gave the Indians a 1-0 victory Wednesday, felt a bit queasy about the stomach Thursday. He recovered in time to finish the game, however.

Fridley blames it on either a change in climate or the change in water.

Manager Al Lopez said he was happy his Indians are favored to win the American League pennant.

Lopez predicted a season bag of 85 wins for the big four of his pitching staff. Early Wynn, Bob Lemon, Garcia and Feller won a total of 79 games last year, but he Indians finished in second place.

It's possible we'll have even better pitching this season, that is, said Lopez.

He figures the Tigers to be the best in the league and will win 83 games.

Feller he continued, should be good for at least 18. He won 22 last year, you know. I think Garcia will better — and Wynn is good to about 15 or more. That's about 85 victories. I think those four fellows will get us.

Now if we can step up our hitting average as a team, say between .270 and .290 as a unit, we'll be in easy.

Pirates Face Blackie Today

Raffensberger Posts 3-0 Win Over Cubs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Lucky Pittsburgh will get the first glimpse of the season today of Ewell Blackwell, the Cincinnati pitching ace who sports the prediction will be a 20 game winner this year.

The Cubs will be seeing a well-rested Blackie as Manager Luke Sewell shipped the rawboned windmill out from Cincinnati Thursday to give him plenty of rest before today's game.

Blackwell has looked sharp, mighty sharp during the exhibition season. That set the sports writers to chewing over his remarkable 1947 season when he won 22 games (16 in a row) and lost eight. It was their opinion he looks every bit as good now as he did then.

He was going along fine last season when an attack of appendicitis seized him. He still finished with a 16-15 record.

The Cincinnati management well knows however, that springtime stuff may not mean that much. Rookie Hermie Wehmeier looked full of ginger in the don't-count contests but fizzled dismally as Chicago beat the Reds 6-5 on opening day.

Bidding Kenny Raffensberger the cute-stuff artist made up Thursday for that first-day whipping as he southpawed Cincinnati to a 3-0 revenge win over the Cubs at Crosley Field.

Lewis Riefensberger all the way, Kid Cal—the deer foot Cincy.

Bobby Adams sent Kelly off to a good start as he slammed a home run in the first inning off Braun. Bob Kelly, Grady Hatton chipped in with another bases-empty wallop in the third into the rightfield bleachers. A walk, single and Long out spelled run No. 3 for the Reds in the same inning.

Outside of a single by Hatton in the seventh the Reds went hitless the rest of the way.

The Cubs got the same number of hits off Kelly — five — that the Reds got off Braun, but they didn't add up to a run. Kenny never was really in trouble but his second baseman combination of Hatton and Rex McMillan smoothed things for him with a couple of fast double plays in the sixth and seventh innings.

Red Birds Belted In Association

By The Associated Press

Close one-run managers provided victories for three American Association teams Thursday but Indianapolis didn't follow the pattern and went on a 17-hit spree to batter Columbus 14-6.

The Indians and St. Paul hosted their second wins of the young season to remain the league's only unbeaten clubs.

Indianapolis playing before 465 fans at Columbus got off to a six-run lead before the Red Birds rallied for four in the fourth inning to shell Lloyd Dickey.

St. Paul checked a ninth-inning Kansas City uprising to pull out a 9-8 decision.

Minneapolis blasted a four-run eighth inning as Ray Katt and pitcher Don Dallessandro homered but it wasn't enough and Milwaukee took a 5-3 victory.

Louisville shaded Toledo 2-1 as lanky Tom Ferrick bested Hank Behrman in a pitching duel. Willie Wilson got three of Louisville's seven hits. Behrman yielded eight.

Sports On Television

Fans Expect Banner Year For Summer Sports In Marion

Softball To Top Local Scene Along With Golf

By JOHN SHORT
Sports Editor, Marion Star

With the coming of spring weather, Marion sportsmen have turned their eyes toward another season of outdoor sports. And this summer should be a banner year for local sport lovers.

Softball undoubtedly will come into its own this year after being overshadowed during the past decade by the Marion professional baseball club. Since the baseball club has folded, fans should turn out for softball in record numbers.

Only baseball for local fans this season will be furnished by the Little League teams which are now being set up and the Junior American Legion team. Harding High School's baseballers also will draw their share of attention during their abbreviated season.

Golf, as always, will draw hundreds of Marionites, men and women, to the two courses just outside the city. The Country Club course and the greens at Mar-O-Del will round into midsummer condition with a few days of clear weather. Several avid golfers already have been bitten by the bug but wet grounds have curtailed their efforts.

Swimming, as always, will be of interest only to a few people. Watching a pool crowded with swimmers, never has been, and never will be, an interesting way to spend a summer afternoon. Sporting goods stores, however, report the usual spring rush is on for fishing equipment and the various fishing spots in this area should be crowded on the first decent weekend. Several of the hardier fishermen already have ventured out for the first time but most have been driven back by rain or cold weather.

B. & A. Enterprises have promised racing enthusiasts the tops in auto racing at the Marion Speedway. Al Barzacchini and Cecil Adams, operators of the local track, have announced plans for an improvement project at the raceway which will provide parking and picnic facilities to handle several thousand spectators. Highlighting the cards at the local track will be the "suicide run," which was originated by the two promoters. That event sends two sets of cars racing in opposite direction on a figure eight track. During its first year the race drew raves from the local fans.

But topping the list when all returns are in will be the interest drawn by the Little League baseballers and the four YMCA softball leagues. Not running competition with an organized baseball team for the first time in several seasons, the local softball stars should draw crowds at every session as fans turn out to cheer for friends and neighbors. Parents alone would be enough to keep the Little Leaguers playing before near-capacity crowds but the entire city has shown interest and probably will turn out to see the smaller stars. In addition to the Little League baseball program, Bantam Softball will be continued for the second year. The YMCA announced plans for continuation of the Bantam League despite formation of the Little Baseball Loop.

Teams Stronger

Even last year when the Marion Red Sox were fighting their way to an Ohio-Indiana League pennant and with the newness of television, softball drew respectable crowds at the Garfield Park diamond. Pre-season talk indicates that many teams in the four leagues will be even stronger than those of last season.

Area towns also are awakening to the summer sports scene. Baseball has taken over as the chief topic of conversation at Galion and Ashley. Galion's Junior American Legion team will be shooting to repeat as one of the strongest Legion teams in Ohio. For two years the Galion nine has ended the season in the state tournament and will be seeking another tourney berth when the season opens.

Ashley, long a diamond stronghold in this area, will be watching her favorite team, the Cardinals, when the campaign gets under way. The Cards, a perennial powerhouse, usually post an enviable record against some of the state's roughest independent competition.

Edington, Morse Return

Two Veterans Available For Harding Baseball

Coach Pete Howison expected to open baseball practice at Harding High School this week with only two men from last year's nine. Back from the squad which posted three wins while dropping one game and tying another, will be Pitcher Jim Edington and Outfielder Eddie Morse.

Inclement weather has held up practice and Howison is forced to complete his first practice session and settle on a starting nine before Monday afternoon when the Prexy baseballers lift the lid on the new season. The Harding crew will travel to Delaware for their first game.

Practice sessions are set for this week at Lincoln Park. Howison was faced with finding a suitable place for the drills since the construction program at the Harding athletic field has ruined that locaton as a practice site.

Although Harding baseball teams have dropped only four decisions in the past three years, Howison expects little this year. With the exception of the right-hand slants of Edington and the help of Morse, who can be fitted in at any position, Howison has little material. He will be attempting to fill spots left by the graduation of such stalwarts as Tom and Don Ellison, Dean Ludwig, Jack Daum, Jim Heisel, Jim Condron and Jim Kennell. Tom McClain, a regular with last year's team, is still in school but will be unavailable for baseball due to part-time work.

Seven games confront the Harding crew in addition to the district tournament at Columbus. That tourney will be held during the last week in April and the first week in May. Drawings for first round play will be held Wednesday, Coach Howison said.

The complete baseball schedule follows: April 21, at Delaware; April 28, at Mansfield; May 1, Mansfield; May 9 at Lima Central; May 12, Ashland; May 15, Delaware; and May 22, at Ashland.

Howison said he expected to open drills with 30 to 40 boys but added he expects to find little top-flight material. He said baseball material among high school youth in Marion was at a low point and probably would remain there for several years. He said his chief hope was for future teams when young boys now ready to take part in the newly-formed Little League circuit in Marion reach high school age.

Wilmington College Sets Grid Schedule

WILMINGTON, O. (AP) — Athletic Director Fred Raizk said today that Wilmington's strongest football opponents of the past five years have been scheduled for the 1952 season.

The small southern Ohio college won six games and lost two last season. A Wilmington team has not lost more than three games in any season since 1957.

The 1952 schedule (at home unless otherwise noted):

Capital, Sept. 27; open, away, Oct. 4; Findlay, Oct. 11, Otterbein, Oct. 18; Wittenberg, away, Oct. 25; Albion, Nov. 1; Earlham, away, Nov. 8 and Marietta, away, Nov. 15.

Field Narrows In Fight For Olympic Wrestling Berths

AMES, Ia. (AP) — The battle for the big zero score and a place on the 1952 U. S. Olympic wrestling team invading Helsinki this summer is the toughest in years, says the man who knows—the wrestler himself.

As the final trials moved into the third and fourth rounds today the original field of 174 competitors has slimmed down to 123 after the elimination of 51 men Thursday.

Gene Gibbons of Cleveland was one of the leaders in the 174 pound class. He pinned Ralph Gay of Texas A. and M.

Bob Nellis of Miami (O.) University was eliminated by Murray Edelman of New York City in a 13:05 pound match. Nellis was pinned in 4:05.

BOWLING RESULTS

Don Anderson posted 10 strikes in a row Wednesday night in the Classic League at the Marion Recreation Center to take individual honors with a 278-640. Stricklin rolled a 229-591 to lead the Mom and Pop League while Dottie Maskill led the women with a 172-511. She also paced the Ladies' All-Star Loop with a 202-531 after leading the Ladies' Commercial League last week with a 202-541. Paul Roush registered a 235-614 to top Osgood League keglers and Lusen's 209 and Hank Krausz with a 578 topped the Business Men's Loop. Clark's 224-615 was high in the Palace League. Individual scores and team standings follow.

Blind Man Builds His Own House

OAKVILLE, Conn. (UP) — Clemmer Ezzo is gratified when friends tell him that the house he's building by himself is good looking. Ezzo will never see it himself. He is blind.

Two years ago, he undertook the job, despite protests by neighbors that he was "crazy." They asked, "How can he hit a nail? How can he saw a straight line"

Ezzo, who is about 50, soon proved that he could compensate for lack of sight. Having had experience as a carpenter, plumber and electrician before his eyes gave out six years ago, he has done nearly all of the work on the two-story, eight-room structure himself.

Friends helped dig the basement and lay the attic floor but "everything else I've done alone," Ezzo said. "The frame, roof, siding, upstairs windows, partitions and shingling . . . everything is my work."

The English Speaking Union has awarded eight Walter Hines Page traveling scholarships to enable British teachers to visit the U.S. for periods of 4-8 weeks during 1952-53.
